Bills Reported in the Senate.

A REPORTER UNDER A CLOUD.

Dismissed as a Committee Clerk.

INEFFICIENCY THE CAUSE.

The Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill Considered.

WASHINGTON, May 23, 1872.

SENATE.

THE ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.

Shortly after the opening of the Senate, on motion of Mr. CAMERON, an executive session was held to consider the additional article of the treaty of Washington.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTER.

Mr. HAMLIN's resolution to expel the reporter for the Associated Press was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

BILLS REPORTED.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported without amendment the House bills to repeal the requirement for the iron clad oath of office, and requiring new trials in the Court of Claims, and the Senate bill to refund taxes paid by State Judicial officers on salaries; also adversely the House bill to allow persons accused of crimes to testify in their own behalf in United States Courts.

Mr. SPENCER, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported without amendment a bill to authorize the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas Railroad Company to construct a tunnel under Capitol Hill, to connect with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

OREGON CLAIM.

Mr. CORBETT called up the bill to authorize the auditing of the claims of Oregon for suppressing Indian hostilities in 1855 and 1856, which was discussed and laid over.

The Senate, on motion of Mr. CAMERON, went into executive session, and at 5 P. M. adjourned.

HOUSE.

DUPLICATING DESTROYED BONDS.

The Senate amendments to the bill for the duplication of United States bonds defaced or destroyed was concurred in.

DONATING LANDS.

On motion of Mr. TOWNSEND (Pa.), from the Committee on Public Lands, a bill passed donating to the trustees of the Fisk University three acres of land in the suburbs of Nashville, Tenn.

EXTENDING SWAMP LAND ACT.

On motion of Mr. HAWLEY, from the same committee, a bill was passed extending the Swamp Land act to the State of Nevada.

TRUSSES FOR SOLDIERS.

The Senate bill to provide trusses for disabled soldiers was passed.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE LAW.

The House bill amendatory to the Agricultural College law was concurred in.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATION.

The House went into the Committee of the Whole on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill.

AMNESTY BILL APPROVED.

A message was received from the President announcing the approval of the amnesty bill.

Thereupon Mr. ROGERS, the member elect from North Carolina, who is included in the bill, was sworn in, and Mr. HOAR remarked that the House had its full representation.

DISPUTE OVER A DISMISSED CLERK.

Mr. COBURN offered an amendment to the appropriation bill to pay $1,200 for a transcript of the Buell court martial proceedings, and in connection with it spoke of his having taken ground in the Military Committe not to take verbal testimony as to the contents of the missing record. For that reason, he said, a hired slanderer on the New York Tribune had stated that he (Coburn) was opposed to the admission of the testimony of the reporter of that Court. Such a statement was utterly and absolutely and totally false. A hired slanderer said that he (Coburn) was compelled, by a vote of the committee, to send for that reporter, Benj. Pittman. That was false. There had been no vote of the committee on the subject. Immediately on his finding out that Pittman had possession of the notes of that Court, he had sent for him, without the request of anybody, and without any action of the committee. He wished, therefore, to brand as utterly and abominably false the report published by a hired slanderer, who occupied a seat in the reporter's gallery, and who had once been a clerk of the Military Committee. From day to day during the examination of the committee falsehoods had been uttered, and his only object now in making this statement was to show that the committee as well as himself had been uniformly in favor of getting at the truth, and all the truth, in the matter.

Mr. WILSON, of New York, asked why that clerk had been discharged.

Mr. COBURN replied that he had been discharged for various reasons. One was because he was not in harmony with the majority of the committee. Another was that he was a poor clerk, and that he had kept no minutes or records of the committee.

Mr. BROOKS remarked that that had not been found out until after the Cincinnati Convention. [Laughter.]

Mr. COBURN replied that he had not found it out before. [Laughter.] There was another good reason for his discharge. The New York Tribune, some days before Greeley discontinued to act as editor, had charged that he (Coburn) had been guilty of gross violation of the rules of the civil service, because he had discharged an old and faithful clerk. He had not, in point of fact, discharged an old and faithful clerk, but a young man, a Mr. St. Clair, a brother-in-law of the clerk, who got two dollars a day for his services, while the clerk got six dollars. If that was a specimen of Greeley's civil service reform he wanted it so understood.

A Member—How was that?

Mr. COBURN—This young man was a clerk of the clerk.

Mr. MAYNARD—Do I understand that the clerk farmed out his office?

Mr. COBURN—I do not know about that. I am stating the facts. You may call it farming out, or employing a deputy, or any thing else.

Mr. GARFIELD said he had not intended saying anything on the amendment, as he had been instructed by the Committee on Appropriations to assent to it, but he felt compelled, as a matter of justice to the gentleman concerned (Mr. Smalley), to say that for a period of two years under the chairmanship of Gen. Schenck, and for the two years that he (Garfield) was chairman of that committee, that gentleman had been a faithful, intelligent and honorable clerk, and he had never before heard anything to the contrary. A few days since, shortly after the Cincinnati Convention, it seemed to have been discovered all at once that that gentleman was an unfaithful and inefficient clerk, and he was given notice to quit. He (Garfield) did not believe that it was quite the way to transact public matters. He did not believe that it was quite wise for the Republican party to begin to cut off heads on an occasion of this sort. If that was the gentleman's (Coburn's) view of propriety, he might have his opinion, but he (Garfield) had his.

Mr. HAY, of Illinois, a member of the Committee on Military Affairs, bore his testimony to the fidelity, ability and worth of the clerk.

Mr. COBURN remarked that he had desired in as fair and kind a manner as possible to let the man off [laughter]; but his object was defeated. The matter was made public, he asked any one to look at the record of the committe and say whether it had a faithful and efficient clerk.

Mr. DAWES—When did you discover that?

Mr. COBURN—Some time since. [Laughter.] He made no personal attack on the character or integrity or standing of this young man, but he would say that in a business point of view he was worthless as a clerk. He had spent most of his time as a reporter for the Tribune on the floor of the House and in the gallery. Greeley had said in his paper that he could afford to pay him as much as Congress could, but that was just where the shoe pinched, and that was why day after day and week after week himself and his committee were slandered. The Tribune had now to pay a man full pay for a day's work. That was civil service reform, he supposed. It was according to the rules that every employer should pay a full day's pay for a full day's work.

The amendment offered by Mr. Coburn was agreed to.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATIONS.

On motion of Mr. GARFIELD, an appropriation of $160,772 was inserted to pay the officers and crew of the Kearsarge by way of prize money for the destruction of the Alabama; also an appropriation of $15,000 for a pneumatic tube between the Capitol and Government printing office; also an appropriation of $30,000 for expenses of recoinage; also an appropriation of $200,000 to pay unsettled claims for carrying mails in the Southern States.

COTTON CLAIMS.

On motion of Mr. PERCE, it was ordered that in the payment of cotton claims, internal revenue tax on cotton shall not be deducted.

The committee rose, and the bill as reported from the Committee of the Whole was passed under a suspension of the rules.

The House then took a recess until 7:30 P. M., the evening session to be for business of the Committee on Naval Affairs.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER BRIDGES.

Evening Session.—Mr. HOLMAN, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill providing that all bridges hereafter constructed across the Mississippi river shall be subject to all the terms, restrictions and requirements of the fifth section of the act of April 1, 1872, authorizing the construction of a bridge near Clinton, Iowa. Passed.

SENATE AMENDMENTS CONCURRED IN.

The Senate amendments to the House bill for the appointment of shipping commissioners and to the House bill supplementary to the apportionment act were now concurred in and a conference committee ordered.

NAVAL BILLS REPORTED.

Bills were reported from the Committee on Naval Affairs as follows:

The Senate bill granting a pension of $2,000 a year to the widow of Admiral Farragut. Passed.

The House bill to pay $23,310 to J. H. Underhill, in full of his claim for work and material on the iron clad Keokuk. Passed.

The House bill to abolish the grade of Admiral and Vice Admiral in the navy of the United States, providing that vacancies happening shall not be filled. Passed.

Mr. ARCHER reported a bill providing that no officer on the retired list of the navy shall be employed on active duty except in time of war. Passed.

Also a bill to pay Charles W. Whitney for work and materials on the iron clad battery Keokuk, $50,000, in full of all claims.

After much opposition by Mr. Holman, the bill passed.

Mr. SCOFIELD reported a bill for the construction of ten steam vessels of war of iron or wood, as the Secretary of the Navy may decide, each carrying ten or more guns of large calibre, and appropriating three million dollars for this purpose.

A vote on the bill was prevented by dilatory motions interposed by Messrs. Holman and Beck, and the House, at 10:30 P. M., took a recess until the same hour to-morrow morning.

POLITICAL.

New Jersey Republican Convention.

TRENTON, N. J., May 23.—The Republican State Convention met at 12 o'clock. Samuel A. Dobbins, of Burlington, was appointed temporary chairman, and John W. Newlin secretary. The State is fully represented.

The convention took a recess, and on reassembling General Thomas D. Van Buren, of Bergen, was selected permanent President. Van Buren made a strong speech in favor of President Grant.

Resolutions were introduced strongly supporting the administration of General Grant; also approving the acts of Congress in reference to amnesty, and other acts. Great applause followed the resolution recommending the renomination of Grant.

The resolutions endorse the very sincere effort to make the principles of the Declaration of Independence a living reality on every inch of American soil; commend the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution, and oppose their repeal or modification; approve the action of Congress in the passage of the amnesty bill; favor civil service reform, and endorse the labors of the Civil Service Commission and messages of the President thereon; urge an early total repeal of the income tax and franking privilege, and the removal of burdens of taxation as rapidly as the national faith will permit; commend the economy of the national administration and its great reduction of the national debt; favor equal and exact justice to all, without regard to race, color or creed; urge concessions to preserve intact the Republican party; acknowledge gratitude to the soldiers and sailors, and fully endorse the administration of President Grant, and believing that the best and highest interest of the country demand the renomination and election of Gen. Grant as President, and Schuyler Colfax as Vice President.

The delegates at large are Courtlandt Parker, A. G. Cottell, Levi D. Jarrard and J. W. Jones; alternates: John S. Irick, Jonathan Dixon, A. S. Livingstone and Joseph Couth.

West Virginia Republican Convention.

WHEELING, May 23.—The Republican State Convention assembled at Grafton to-day. A special to the Intelligencer says ex-Governor Stevenson, of this State, was elected President.

A resolution that no office-holder should be a delegate to the Philadelphia Convention was rejected. Ten delegates from each Congressional District were appointed to the Philadelphia Convention.

The resolutions adopted recite: prosperity of the country; reduction of the public debt; maintainance of peaceful relations at home and abroad; economical administration of the Government; integrity of public officials; favor a continued reduction of taxation; gradual payment of the national debt; Grant's civil service reform; restoration of good will in the reconstructed States; jealous guarding of the national honor in intercourse with foreign nations; also declaring that the last three amendments to the Constitution shall forever remain inviolate; no passive policy, no disguises assumed by malcontents and no false pretences of disappointed men can alienate the Republican party, praising the economical collection and disbursement of revenue and the reduction of taxes; eulogizing Grant; instructing the delegates to use all honorable means to secure his renomination; instructing the delegates to vote for Senator Boreman for Vice President, but afterward to vote for Colfax for Vice President.

Arkansas (Brook's) Republican Convention.

LITTLE ROCK, May 23.—The Brooks Republican State Convention assembled at ten o'clock this morning. Col. John A. Williams, of Pine Bluff, was elected permanent President. Joseph Brooks, of Pulaski, was nominated by acclamation for Governor. He accepted the nomination in a short speech.

CINCINNATI.

Destructive Tornado.

CINCINNATI, May 23.—A tornado of great fury passed over the country north and east of this city about three o'clock yesterday afternoon. Thomas Jones, a farmer, is said to have lost his house and barn, George McMullen his house, and George Keeler his barn. Several other houses were unroofed. Mr. McMullen's house was taken up and carried several rods, with the members of his family in it, all of whom were injured, though none fatally. The track of the tornado was a quarter of a mile in width. It leveled orchards as well as houses, and caught up horses and cattle and dashed them down like trifles, and played havoc generally.

OBERLIN.

The Anti-Secret Convention.

OBERLIN, May 23.—The Anti-Secret Convention met this morning at the usual hour. It had been announced that the ceremonies of conferring the degree of Royal Arch Mason would be performed by an ex-Mason, but the church authorities objected, and the design was abandoned.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales are expected in Paris to-day.

—The sash and blind factory of Gibbs, Crillman & Co., in Philadelphia, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday night.

—The residence of Mr. Bergh, at Upper Rochelle, N. Y., was destroyed by fire on Tuesday. It is reported that $30,000 in United States bonds were lost.

—Archibald Campbell has been appointed by the President Commissioner to survey and adjust the Southern boundary separating Minnesota and Dakota from the British possessions.

—A special from Warrington, W. Va., says a destructive fire occurred at an early hour on Thursday morning, by which the greater portion of the business part of the town was destroyed.

—The National Christian Association opposed to secret societies, in session in Oberlin, Ohio, resolved to support Charles Francis Adams for President and Charles H. Howard, of Illinois, for Vice President.

—A petition is being circulated in Paterson, New Jersey, asking the Court of Pardons to commute the sentence of Libbie Garrabrant to imprisonment for life, and has already received one thousand signatures.

—S. H. Horn, aged 26, of Orneville, Me., on Thursday, in his saw-mill, accidentally fell across a circular saw in motion, and was cut to pieces. Both his legs and one arm were cut off and his body sawn asunder.

—A London dispatch says: The accouchement of Mrs. Anna Swan Bates, well known in America as the Nova Scotian giantess, is announced. She was delivered of a still-born female child of gigantic proportions.

—The most violent storm for six years passed over Fortress Monroe on Wednesday afternoon, unroofing houses and prostrating trees and fences. It lasted about thirty minutes, and was accompanied by rain, hail and lightning.

—The Louisville, Cincinnati & Lexington Short Line, and Jefferson, Madison & Indianapolis Railroads have put the fare for delegates to the Philadelphia Convention at twenty-two dollars for the round trip from Louisville.

—Letters from Aleppo give a distressing picture of the state of affairs in Antioch. The town is now a mere heap of ruins, and as shocks of earthquake still continue, and the soil quivering with volcanic movements all around, the people are afraid to approach the site to remove the large number of dead who lie unburied.

The Statue of Shakspeare Unveiled.

NEW YORK, May 23, 1872.

UNVEILING OF STATUE OF SHAKSPEARE.

The statue of Shakspeare, in Central Park, was unveiled to-day in the presence of about 7,000 spectators, shortly after 3 o'clock.

Judge Daly, Chairman of the Executive Committee, addressing the commissioners of the Central Park, related how the project originated in 1864. He ascribed the chief credit of the success of the undertaking to the efforts of Booth, Wheatley, and Hackett, and expressed his conviction that an American sculptor, John Quincy Adams Ward, had first succeeded in producing in form a statue of the poet as he lived and looked according to the most authentic accounts and portraits, and concluded by tendering the statue subscribed for by citizens of New York to the city forever through the park commissioners.

The staute was then uncovered by the sculptor, Mr. Ward, and the architect of the pedestal, W. J. W. Mould. The figure is of bronze, and the face bears an expression of almost life-like intelligence.

Mr. Stebbins, President of the Department of Public Parks, in accepting the gift, referred to the statues of Hamboldt, Schiller and Morse, and said the park was engineered and intended for such public monuments. He would leave to the distinguished orator of the day the task so fitly assigned him. He was rejoiced that American poetry and sculpture were to unite in expressing their deep appreciation of Shakspeare's poetry.

Wm. Cullen Bryant delivered an oration full of poetic imagery. He suggested various thoughts and fancies that the statue would recall to those who visited the park, and said Shakspeare must have possessed an intellectual character like that of the great personages whom he would represent, and into whose mouths he puts words and sentiments corresponding to their exalted character, and in other pursuits might have achieved renown almost equal to that which attends his dramatic writings. One only regret saddened the ceremony: that Hackett, who was foremost in procuring that expression of homage to Shakspeare, sleeps with the great author whose works he loved and interpreted to ear and eye.

Edwin Booth then recited the lines of R. H. Stoddard on Shakspeare, bursts of applause following every stanza. With this the ceremonies were concluded.

METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE.

In the Methodist General Conference to-day, it was decided to hold the next Quadrennial session at St. Louis. Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati and Covington were proposed, but with the exception of Cincinnati, they received but few favorable votes.

A special Committee on the ordination of the new Bishops reported Saturday, at 10:30 A. M. as the time and the Academy of Music the place for holding the ordination services. A discussion arose on a motion to change the place to the Simpson M. E. church, but the motion was finally tabled. A motion was then made to change the time for holding the ordination services from Saturday at 10 A. M. to Friday at the same time. After some debate the motion prevailed.

STRIKES AND LABOR.

A body of two hundred striking cabinet makers yesterday attempted to force the employes of a non-striking shop into their ranks, but were dispersed by the police.

The stone cutters of Long Island City yesterday struck for eight hours' work and four dollars a day. They have been receiving four dollars and fifty cents for ten hours' work. Two yards have conceded to their demands. The bricklayers are receiving four dollars for eight hours' work in the same locality.

The carpenters are still holding secret sessions. It is yet believed that a new strike for four dollars per day is probable.

The German upholsterers' strike is a success, and expect to resume work soon at eight hours. Ten additional shops conceded to their demand to-day.

The journeymen street railroad car builders this evening organized an association, and resolved to strike at an early day for eight hours' work per day.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The Board of Indian Commissioners are now in session at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. They had a protracted conference last evening with Gen. F. A. Walker, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in reference to the proposed sale of several Indian reservations. The Purchasing Committee of the Board are now engaged in making awards for the Indian goods, for which sixty-six bids have been received.

BAPTIST ANNIVERSARY.

The forty-eighth anniversary of the Baptist Bible and Publication Society was held yesterday. The financial exhibit shows the receipts to have been fifty-five thousand dollars, an excess over any previous year. A resolution was adopted striking out the word Bible from the title of the society.

SEIZURE OF CIGARS.

The Custom House Inspectors last night seized, on board the steamship Moro Castle, fifteen thousand Havana cigars, which were stowed away in India rubber bags, ready to be thrown overboard to men in small boats who were on hand to pick them up. The owners would not claim them.

COMMISSION ON COTTON.

The cotton commission merchants held a meeting yesterday and adopted a rule that the minimum rates of commission for future delivery should be one and one-half per cent.

STOKES ARRAIGNED.

Stokes was arraigned to-day to plead. His counsel filed a special plea, the contents of which were not stated. The case was then adjourned till to-morrow.

CRUELTY TO TURTLES.

Suit was brought against turtle dealers yesterday for cruelty to animals. Two turtles were introduced into court. The jury disagreed.

THE WEATHER.

The low barometer over Iowa will move northeastward over Lake Michigan into Canada, accompanied by brisk winds over the upper lakes to-night, shifting to north westerly on Friday, with clearing weather. Clear, pleasant weather will prevail on Friday over the New England, south and middle Atlantic States. Clear and clearing weather with westerly winds for the Gulf States. The area of cloud and rain northwest of the Ohio valley will extend eastward over the latter and the lower lake region. Dangerous winds are not anticipated, except possibly for the lower lakes.

THE TARIFF AND TAX.

The Senate Committee on Finances did not complete their work on the tariff and tax bill today, but will do so to-morrow. The door of their committee room was besieged all day by persons interested in various items in the bill. Some of them either obtained personal interviews with or sent notes to members of the committee. There were also on the House side hundreds of persons looking after their interests with members of that body, and thronging the doors and lobbies.

THE AMENDED ELECTION LAW.

The President has approved the act amendatory of the election law. It provides that all votes for Representatives in Congress shall hereafter be by written or printed ballot, any law of any State to the contrary notwithstanding. This section is not to apply to any State voting otherwise, whose elections for such Representatives shall occur previous to the regular meeting of its Legislature next after the approval of this act.

THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON.

The Senate this afternoon had an executive session of four hours and a half on the additional article to the treaty of Washington, without coming to a conclusion. It has been ascertained that comparatively few of the Senators wish to take part in the discussion, and therefore it may be ended and a result reached this week.

THE WHISKY TAX.

George H. Brooks, of Cincinnati, in behalf of the rectifiers, has appeared before the Senate Committee on Finance, urging a consolidation of the special taxes now paid by rectifiers with the general tax, making the tax seventy cents, thus relieving the rectifiers of a tax of one per cent. on sales, and fifty cents per barrel, and reducing the value of the rectified stamp from twenty-five to ten cents.

REFUNDING INCOME TAX.

The Committee on Ways and Means has postponed until the next session of Congress any action on the bill refunding to railroads and other corporations the amount collected from them under the income tax law. About five millions of dollars are said to be involved in the question.

MICHIGAN.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

DETROIT, May 23.—A public meeting of great interest in behalf of Foreign Missions was held last night. An earnest appeal for the starving persons was made, and a collection was taken up to aid them.

This morning the discussion on the demission of the Ministry was resumed, and the report was strongly opposed in effective speeches.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Japan, gave an account of the progress of religious liberty in that nation.

The Standing Committee on the Freedmen presented their report, recommending that the work be continued in its present form, and that an effort be made to raise $125,000 for this object during the present year.

His Excellency Governor Baldwin was received by the Assembly, and the courtesies of the House were extended to him, to which he responded in a brief and graceful speech.

Col. Snowden, of Philadelphia, offered a paper respecting the famine in Persia, which was adopted.

This afternoon the time of the assembly has been occupied with hearing delegates from foreign ecclesiastical bodies. The house was addressed by Rev. M. Gray, of the Canada Presbyterian Church; Rev. Geo. Bell, LL. D., of the synod of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, connected with the Church of Scotland; Rev. Dr. Wm. Milligan and Jno. Marshall Long, from the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, and Rev. Richard Smith, from the Presbyterian Church of Ireland, and for two years moderator of its assembly.

To the very happy addresses of these delegates, which kept the assembly beyond the usual time for adjournment, the moderator, Dr. Nicolls, made a most felicitous response. The occasion was throughout one of peculiar interest, and the interchange of fraternal greetings between these great bodies was much more than empty form or mere ceremony.

UTAH.

The Mormon Territorial Marshal—Disappearance of a Miner—That Petition of Women—Rush of Travel—The Weather—Mormon Meetings.

SALT LAKE, May 22.—The refusal of Judge Hawley to recognize the Mormon Territorial Marshal is based on the fact that that officer never was commissioned by the Government.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A MINER.

James Montgomery, a miner, left Alta City, on the Little Cottonwood, for Silver Fork, a short time since, and has not been heard from. It is supposed he perished in the snow.

THAT PETITION OF WOMEN.

The Church organ is earnestly endeavoring to make it appear that the great petition of the women of Utah to Congress, against the Statehood, was a fraud, and that many Mormons signed it under a misapprehension of its true character. The evidence, however, is abundant and positive that it is genuine, though some of the signers were evidently intimidated to dodge the responsibility.

RUSH OF TRAVEL.

The rush of travel to Utah is still increasing. The greatest number is from the East. Sometimes there are hundreds on one train, destined for that country.

THE WEATHER.

The weather is quite warm. In two weeks more it is expected that all the mining districts will be free from snow.

MORMON MEETINGS.

The Mormon Home Missionary Society is holding protracted meetings in different parts of the Territory. Elder Musser, who proposed to burn Salt Lake City, &c., is prominent among them.

COLUMBUS.

Trial of Barclay, the Murderer of Garner.

COLUMBUS, May 23.—The Barclay murder trial grows in interest to-day. Jacob Ely, who was in jail with Barclay, testified that Barclay had admitted to him that he had murdered Garner by striking him with a hammer or hatchet while under the influence of liquor. Witness also stated that Barclay had made a confident of him and he had confided to his care a letter to (Barclay's) brother-in-law, asking him to furnish twenty-five dollars to purchase tools to assist Barclay to escape from jail, saying he greatly feared he would stretch hemp if not released soon. This letter was found in Ely's possession and taken from him. It nearly produced a sensation in Court.

Patrick Dressell, of Madison county, testified that Barclay had been in his employ for some time before the murder, but had quit work on the 27th of November, saying he was sick and wanted to go to Columbus. He says he saw Barclay on the next Wednesday after the murder, and Barclay wanted to lend him fifty dollars, saying his brother had sent him two hundred dollars in response to a request from him. Barclay said he had not been to Columbus. Barclay drank freely and spent money freely.

During a cross examination this afternoon, Ely contradicted his testimony of the morning in several points.

ALBANY.

Judge McCunn's Answer to the Charges Against Him.

ALBANY, May 23.—Judge McCunn has sent to the Senate an answer to the charges against him. He says the Senate has no jurisdiction to try him on the charges, and further avers that the matters alleged in the charges do not constitute an offense for which the defendant is liable to removal under the Constitution; and further, the respondent denies each and every allegation in the charges.

CONVICTED COMMUNISTS.

PARIS, May 23.—Henry Rochefort, whose departure for New Caledonia has been delayed, will sail to-morrow for that island, together with other convicted Communists.

LOUIS PHILIP'S REMAINS.

PARIS, May 23.—Thiers has given permission for the remains of ex-King Louis Philip to be brought from England and interred at Dreux, in the department of Eure et Loir.

HOPES CRUSHED.

PARIS, May 23.—The journals of to-day generally agree in the expression of the opinion that the delegates in the Assembly on Tuesday and Wednesday inflicted a crushing blow to the hopes of the friends of the Empire.

The Journal de Debats says the result of the discussion is a parliamentary Sedan. It is understood that the party of the Left in the Assembly will, after the close of the impending trial of Marshal Bazaine, demand the impeachment of the members of the last Ministry under the Empire.

SPAIN.

SAGOSTA THREATENS TO RESIGN.

MADRID, May 23.—At the session to-day of Congress, Sagosta, Minister of the Interior, stated that in consequence of the publicity given to documents relative to the secret funds of the Government, he would resign.

CRISIS IN THE MINISTRY.

MADRID, May 23—Evening.—The crisis in the ministry continues. It is said that several million pisetas of secret funds of the Government were used during the recent elections for members of the Cortes. Senor Sagosta, President of the Council, insists on tendering his resignation. King Amadeus has called in Senor Zabola for consultation relative to the formation of a new Cabinet should the present members insist on their determination to retire.

CARLISTS ROUTED.

The Government troops in Gerona had an engagement with the Carlists in that province, and completely defeated them.

MEXICO.

SLIGHT SKIRMISH.

MATAMORAS, May 23.—For the last few days the revolutionists have appeared in small parties in the vicinity of Camargo, which is the headquarters of the Government forces under Gen. Ceballos. Yesterday the revolutionists attacked one of Gen. Ceballos' outposts, and were repulsed with the loss of several killed and wounded.

REPORTED PRONUNCIAMENTO.

It is reported that a small party of men belonging to the force lately commanded by Cortina has pronounced for and joined the revolutionists.

WHEREABOUTS OF LEADERS.

Trevino is said to be near Monterey, and Quiroga near Ceroloo, both of whom are recruiting their forces.

GREAT BRITAIN.

STEAMSHIP COLLISION.

LONDON, May 23.—The steamship Baltimore, which arrived at Southampton yesterday, en route from Baltimore to Bremen, and subsequently sailed for her destination, collided at twelve o'clock last night when off the town of Hastings, with an unknown steamer, and had a large hole stove in her hull. The water poured in rapidly and extinguished the fires, not, however, before the steamer had run aground. The coast guards at Hastings immediately came to the relief of the vessel and rescued her passengers and crew. When the Baltimore went ashore she ran on a rock and will probably go to pieces.

MARINE NEWS.

The steamship Angela, from New York, has arrived out.

ITALY.

RETURNING CARL'S VISIT.

ROME, May 23.—Prince Humbert, accompanied by his wife, Princess Margherita, will depart from Milan on Saturday for Berlin to return the visit recently paid to Italy by Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia.

TOLEDO.

Aid to a Railroad—Fire.

TOLEDO, May 23.—A meeting was held at the Board of Trade Rooms last night to consider the matter of aid for the Columbus and Toledo Railroad. A resolution was passed pledging those present to secure a vote of the electors of this city under the Boezel Railroad law for an appropriation towards the construction of such road, not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars.

FIRE.

The wholesale drug establishment of Reno, Espy & Co., was damaged by fire last night to the amount of thirty thousand dollars. Fully insured.

THE GILES CASE.

A New Phase of the Case—The Alleged Bigamist in this City—He is Traced to Allegheny—Jumps Through a Window and Again Escapes from the Officers.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Giles—the first wife of James Giles, the alleged bigamist, of whom so much has been written lately, appeared at the Mayor's office for the purpose of ascertaining whether the report that her husband had been arrested at McKeesport was true. She had an interview with Mayor Blackmore and Chief Irwin in the course of which, she was informed that the statement of his being in custody was untrue. Mrs. G. brought with her a large covered basket which contained a suit of clothing and underwear for her husband. It will be remembered that the detectives have for some time been looking for Giles, and that he eluded their search last week by entering a coal mine and there hiding himself. In addition to the charge of bigamy against him, a complaint has been entered by his own daughter charging him with outraging her person. It seems that by some means the suspicions of the officers were aroused by the fact that she was carrying clothes for her husband. As a consequence she was watched. About five o'clock she proceeded up-town and entered a house, and when she left it the man Giles was seen to be in her company. The couple proceeded to Allegheny and wended their way to the Central Hotel in the Diamond. There they engaged a room and after taking supper proceeded to spend a pleasant evening. Mrs. Giles, in looking around, ascertained that from the room they occupied a good view of the office could be obtained, and further discovered that the window of the room led to the roof of an outbuilding which connected with an alley in the rear. She informed her husband of the discoveries, and informed him that she would watch to see if any officers, and that if this occurred he would have an easy way of escape throug the before-mentioned window. While keeping watch, Mrs. G., shortly before 9 o'clock, observed detectives Wilmot and Pender enter the hotel office, and at once informed him of the fact. He immediately rushed to the window, and following the plan devised by his wife quickly made good his escape. The officers, no doubt exulting at their inevitable success in arresting the object of their long search, proceeded up stairs and boldly knocked at the door. Mrs. G. after enquiring "who was there," requested her visitors to wait until she dressed. In a few minutes she opened the door, and the officers found that their bird had flown. They however, discovered a pair of pantaloons and a pair of boots which convinced them that the man they wanted had but recently "levanted." Chagrined at their defeat they arrested the woman and placed her in the lock-up and commenced a thorough search of the town. At last accounts Giles was still at large.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—To-night Mr. Frank Mayo takes a benefit at this house, and the favorite old drama the "Octoroon" will be reproduced. Its presentation last night was greeted by a full house, and it is to be hoped that the theater will be crowded to-night. Mr. Mayo's characterization of Uncle Pete is exceedingly enjoyable, as also is, of course, Mr. Gotthold's Scudder. The piece is splendidly mounted, some of the scenery having been painted expressly for this occasion.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The bill at this theatre will be again changed to-night, on occasion of Mrs. J. A. Oates' benefit. For this night only Offenbach's latest comic opera, "The Prima Donna," will be produced with the fair, sprightly, entertaining and talented beneficiare in her splendid role of "Ernestine." Mrs. Oates deserves a full house, and we can with confidence advise our friends who wish for an evening's genuine amusement not to omit this chance of enjoying one. The music in the opera is the author's best, and the members of the company are fully competent to interpret it successfully. The performance will commence with an amusing farce.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—Tony Pastor's celebrated Variety Troupe appears at this house on Friday evening, May 31st, and on the Saturday and Monday night following. The Troupe is justly celebrated as the best in the country, and to those who would enjoy a really first-class entertainment we would suggest that they visit the Opera House, and we promise them that they shall not be disappointed. The Troupe has met with a flattering success in former visits to Pittsburgh and we doubt not that an appreciative public will this time greet it with crowded houses.

THE GREAT SHOW, the mammoth establishment of that prince of showmen, Phineas T. Barnum, which has been recognized everywhere it has been as the most wonderful aggregation ever seen on this or any other continent, will visit our city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. The six colossal tents will be pitched on the days named in Union Park, Allegheny City, and three performances will be given daily. The exhibition includes Museum, Menagerie, Aviary, Polytechnical Institute, and two circuses. All the arrangements are of the most complete and perfect character, and everything advertised will positively be on exhibition.

THE NEW BISHOPS.

Brief Biographical Sketches.

The Methodist Episcopal General Conference has concluded perhaps the most important, as it was certainly the most interesting business before it, the election of eight new Bishops. The selections made give evidence that care was exercised in making a choice, and have silenced the fears of those who were apprehensive that eight men, fitted for the Episcopacy, could hardly be chosen at once. The selections are generally wise and must give satisfaction.

BISHOP BOWMAN.

The Rev. Thomas Bowman, D. D., is a native of Berwick, Pa, and is now fifty-three years of age. He graduated with honor at Dickinson College, and for a brief period thereafter was a teacher in the Institution. In 1839 he left that position and joined the Baltimore Conference. He traveled several years, but was compelled to give up ministerial labors in the pulpit, from a disease of the throat. In 1840 he was elected President of Dickinson Seminary, at Williamsport, an institution for boys and girls. He resigned that after ten years of service, to re-enter the pastorate, but was immediately elected President of Indiana Asbury University, which position he filled until called to the Episcopate. President Bowman is well known as a pulpit orator. His sermons are plain, practical, and lucid, and his bearing in the pulpit is dignified. In person he is of about the medium size, compactly built and pleasant featured. He is plain in his attire, and modest and unobtrusive in his manners.

BISHOP HARRIS.

The Rev. Wm. L. Harris, D. D., was born in Ohio, in November, 1817; and became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in his 17th year. Two years after he was licensed to preach, and the next year he joined the Ohio Conference, and spent ten years in the pastoral work. He was then elected Principal of the Baldwin Institute, and after three years' service resigned to accept a Professorship in the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio. In 1860, he was elected Assistant Missionary Secretary, which office he has held to the present time. He was first elected to the General Conference in 1856, and never failed to be returned since. At the first session he was elected Secretary of the Conference, and re-elected at every subsequent session. He is a fine specimen of vigorous manhood, nearly six feet high, well built, with courteous manners, and social habits that make him a great favorite.

BISHOP FOSTER.

The Rev Randolph S. Foster, D. D., was born in Clermont county, Ohio, in 1820. Converted in early life, he entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, joining the Ohio Conference in 1837. In 1850 he was transferred to the New York Conference, and spent 18 years in the pastoral work. When the Drew Theological Seminary was established at Madison, New Jersey, he was elected one of the Professors, and on the death of Dr. McClintock, President of that institution, he was elected to the vacant position, which he still occupies. He is an author of distinction on theological subjects, and has written a number of volumes that are now standard authorities. Few ministers excel Dr. Foster in preaching. Without having popular qualities as a speaker, he rarely fails to command the close attention of a congregation, and to interest and instruct them. In person he is tall and imposing, and, when speaking he is dignified and graceful.

BISHOP WILEY.

The Rev. Isaac W. Wiley, D. D., is a Pennsylvanian by birth, and in the 47th year of his age. At the age of thirteen he was converted. In 1846, he graduated in Medicine, but joined the Philadelphia Conference in 1849, and in the next year sailed for China as a missionary, returning to this country in 1854. Immediately after his return he entered upon pastoral work, and four years afterward was elected President of Pennington Seminary, in New Jersey, and held that position five years. In May, 1864 he was elected editor of the Ladies' Repository, published at Cincinnati, and he has filled that position until the present time. He is regarded as an excellent preacher and platform speaker. In person he is of medium hight, slender build, and compact form, and is pleasing in address.

BISHOP MERRILL.

The Rev. Stephen M. Merrill, D. D., is a native of Ohio, and was born in September, 1825. In his 21st year he was received into the Ohio Conference. By study he rapidly rose, and was finally appointed a Presiding Elder. All his ministerial life, except four years, has been spent as an itinerant preacher. When important questions were agitating the church, some years ago, he wrote papers which gave indications of marked ability. In 1868 he was elected editor of the Western Christian Advocate, published at Cincinnati. He preaches with power, and occasions have occurred in his pulpit ministrations when he has exhibited signal ability. He is quite tall, rather grave and dignified in bearing, and a favorite in social circles.

BISHOP ANDREWS.

Rev. E. G. Andrews is probably the least known of any who have been chosen. He is about forty-two years of age, a graduate of Wesleyan University, at Middletown, Connecticut, and was for some years President of the Seminary at Cazenovia, New York. He is now pastor of one of the most prominent Methodist churches of Brooklyn. His special support came from the laity. He never held a General Conference office but his forte is said to be of an executive character.

BISHOP HAVEN.

Few people who have kept themselves posted with the current religious literature of the day, will need to be told much of Rev. Gilbert Haven. He is now editor of Zion's Herald, Boston. He is also a graduate of the Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn., and for some years filled the Principal's chair at the Amenia (New York) Seminary. He is one of the most brilliant writers in the Methodist Church.

His paper is the leading Methodist journal of New England, and he has made it an influential and powerful weapon in the interests of the Church, and at the same time has always spoken through it with clearness and vigor on all the political issues of the day. He has been editor of the Herald for about four years. In other days he was a radical abolitionist. About ten years since Mr. Haven lost his wife, and has never remarried.

BISHOP PECK.

Rev. Jesse Truesdell Peck was born in Middlefield, Otsego county, New York, April 4, 1811. He never enjoyed a collegiate education, but studied under his brother, Rev. George Peck, D. D., and by close application gained a front rank in scholarship. He commenced preaching in 1832 and after four years of a pastorate, became Principal of the Seminary at Gouverner, New York, where he spent four years. He then removed to the Troy Conference Academy at West Poultney Vt., and spent seven years. He left this to take the Presidency of Dickinson College and in two years resigned this Presidency to enter the regular ministerial work. He spent two more years in the ministry at Washington, D. C. Then he became editor of the Tract Department of the Church; subsequently spent three years as pastor of Greene street Church, New York; went to California and stayed eight years, filling many important positions, and finally, on his return, organized the Syracuse University and became President of its Board of Trustees—a position which he now holds. He has written a number of volumes on church and secular history, and is regarded in the literary world as a man of mark. His age was somewhat against him with the delegates, but his abilities overcame that objection.

THE FULL BOARD

of Bishops of the M. E. Church now stands: Bishop Morris, 82 years of age; Bishop Janes, 65; Bishop Scott, 70; Bishop Simpson, 62; Bishop Ames, 66; Bishop Bowman, 53; Bishop Harris, 55; Bishop Foster, 52; Bishop Wiley, 47; Bishop Merrill, 47; Bishop Andrews, 42; Bishop Haven, 45; Bishop Peck, 61.

All of these are effective in the work save Bishops Morris and Scott.

FRAUDULENT INCOME RETURNS.

Important Decision.

In the United States Circuit Court of Pennsylvania for the Eastern District, the case of Doll vs. Evans et. al., has just been decided, the Judge fully sustaining the Assessor. The following are the facts of the case, admitted by the demurrer:

The defendant's plea avers that the plaintiff made a return of his income for the year 1868, to the Assessor of the Third Collection District of Pennsylvania; that he was thereupon assessed with an income tax of $95.60, which was placed by the Assessor on the annual list; that this list was delivered to the Collector, to whom the plaintiff paid the tax so charged against him; that afterwards, and within fifteen months after the delivery of said list to the Collector, to wit: on the 21st of October, 1869, the Assessor duly summoned and required the plaintiff to appear before him at his office in Philadelphia, on the 25th of October, 1869, to produce all books of accounts, containing entries of profits from business, rents, etc., relating to his income and business from January 1, 1868, to December 31, 1868, which he had in his power, custody, or care, and to give evidence according to knowledge respecting his liability to an excise or tax under the internal revenue laws; that the plaintiff did not appear in pursuance of said notice, whereupon the Assessor proceeded to make, according to the best information he could obtain, and to his own view and information, a list or return of the income, gains and profits of the plaintiff for the year 1868, and did assess thereupon and charge to the plaintiff the sum of $482.84 in addition to the $95.60 before assessed, as his income tax, and did further add thereto the sum or $482.84, being one hundred per centum, as and for a penalty of having made the false and fraudulent list, statement, or return as aforesaid; that afterwards, to wit, on the 20th day of April, 1870, the said Assessor certified and delivered to the defendant, George C. Evans, as Collector, a certain list called the monthly list, for the month of March, 1870, on which was charged to the plaintiff the sum of $965.68 being the additional amount of his income tax for the year 1868, so re-assessed, and the penalty aforesaid; that the said Collector duly notified the plaintiff of the charge, and demanded payment thereon on or before the last day of April, 1870; that the plaintiff did not pay the same, and that the defendant afterwards, on the 9th day of May, 1870, proceeded to collect the same by distraint of the goods and chattels mentioned in the declaration.

The Judge stated that it is the imperative duty of the Assessor, when finding the first returns to have been "false or fraudulent," to add the one hundred per centum to the tax.

The decision was by Judge McKennan, and was delivered April, 1872.

IT is said that about one-fourth of the saloon keepers of Illinois have already closed up, and that one quarter of the remainder will go out of business before the 1st of July, on account of the State temperance law.

THE STATE.

ARMSTRONG.—Work has commenced on the Parker bridge.——The wheat crop prospect is fair.——The gas works in Kittanning will soon be completed.

BERKS.—The Eagle states that on Saturday, the 11th inst., a man named A. H. Benner, aged about seventy-six years, and a resident of Bethlehem, came to Reading to visit his son, who lives at No. 1,231 Moss street. The old gentleman had several hundred dollars in his pocket, and on Saturday last he started from his son's house for the purpose of purchasing a cow, promising to return by 5 o'clock in the afternoon, but nothing has been heard of him since, and fears of foul play are entertained.

CRAWFORD.—Meadville has a Grant Club of Colored voters——Crawford pays its County Superintendent $500 more than any neighboring county.——The Republican says the officers of the Trotting Club have assurances of the attendance of a large number of turfmen with their fast nags. There will be ten horses from Titusville. Pittsburgh, Tidioute, and other places will send their quota, and if the weather proves favorable, there is no doubt of a large and successful meeting.——A Mr. Leslie, aged 44 years, committed suicide in Meadville on Wednesday morning. Cause, temporary insanity.

CLEARFIELD.—Clearfield wants a water works.

FORREST.—Court sits in Tionesta next week.——John Jamieson, of Tionesta, speared a spoon sturgeon on Thursday night of last week, which weighed 14½ pounds. The "spoon" was a little over a foot long. This is the second one which has been captured this spring.

FAYETTE.—The Brownsville Clipper asks: Are the people of Brownsville and along the Fayette side of the river, aware, that the question, which side the road will come, will depend on which side subscribes the greater amount of stock. The people on the Washington side are wide awake and active; those on the Fayette side are in a deep sleep and no human effort can arouse them.

GREENE.—The Waynesburg Messenger says: "We notice that something—a worm or insect of some kind—is cutting the leaves from the white oak trees in the forest of Morgan township, this county. In a single night's time, the ground under the white oak trees will be completely covered with whole leaves cut from the branches above. This is done by some little gormandizer that eats off the stems and lets the leaves fall to the ground. We do not know whether this thing is common throughout the county, but if it is, it threatens the ultimate destruction of our fine oak forest, which is by far the most valuable timber we have.——The railroad fever in Greene county has abated.——Waynesburg people think the young men would be much more quiet if the town had a force of night police.——The Waynesburg Republican says: "As Phillip Riley, clerk at the Sherman House, was leaving the billiard saloon about eleven o'clock last evening, (Monday), he was set upon by rowdies and beat in a terrible manner about the head and face. How badly he is injured cannot now be ascertained. When will our citizens rise in their might and put an end to such devilish work, by an efficient police, before somebody is killed."

MERCER.—Workmen have commenced laying the foundation for the new depot in Greenville.——In the Mercer jail are eleven male and two female prisoners awaiting trial——The Greenville Academy property was sold on the 16th, to Mrs. Book and Atwater Cook. Consideration, $2,000.——Five Liberal Republicans in the county. Four of them are wavering already, and the fifth says if the Democrats don't ratify Greeley and Brown, he will vote for Grant.

VENANGO.—The Republican primary elections in Venango county will be held Saturday, the 25th inst.——A Mr. Royer, belonging somewhere in the Eastern part of the State, who had been stopping at Mr. Dislar's, in Richland township, a few days, undertook to fall a tree last Friday, and when it was starting to fall a branch that had become dislodged or broken off flew back, striking Mr. Royer on the head and inflicting injuries from which he died the same evening.——The Emlenton Sun has changed its name to the People's Friend.

WASHINGTON.—The Examiner complains of the delay, and general bad management on the Chartiers Valley Railroad.——Farmers, tradesmen and other persons living along the line of the Pan Handle Railroad, between MacDonald, Bulger and Burgettstown, are petitioning the management of the road to run the McDonald accommodation trains to and from Pittsburgh as far as the latter points.——Recently some cowardly wretch entered the graveyard attached to the Mount Tabor Church, in Allen township, and peeled the bark from several of the finest trees, injuring them to such an extent that they will have to be cut down.——The wheat crop throughout this part of Washington county will be very poor. Wheat that was drilled on bottom land will be the best. It is time the farmers were realizing the importance of drills. Wheat is advancing in price; several good loads were sold for $2.00 per bushel at the depot, consequently flour will be high.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—Through the columns of your valuable and widely circulated paper I beg the privilege of calling the attention of the voters of Allegheny county to a "candidate for Assembly," who is, as every one knows, a "loyal German" and a "consistent Republican." I refer to my fellow townsman J. Martin Schafer. True, tried and energetic in the interest of the party, I deem it but duty that he should be supported. X.

THE UNIFORM reply to the question "any Greeley men out your way" is—"nary one."

"THE safety and interest of the people require that they should promote such manufacture as tend to render them independent of others for essential supplies." —Washington.

THE Democratic Editorial Association will meet shortly at Erie to exchange views on the political outlook. These poor fellows hold prayer meetings once a year, but not much grace follows the spirited gatherings.

WE SHALL THANK our country readers for any information they may send us relative to the crop prospects. Their letters need not be long, so that they give accurate intelligence, they will prove of interest to our readers.

THE New York World asserts that the re-election of Grant would be "a great calamity." Well, we imagine the country can stand such calamities remarkably well, and will be very apt to bring one about next November.

THE CONSCIENCE FUND in the United States Treasury slowly accumulates, every other day or so being increased by small amounts sent through anonymous sources by repentant swindlers. The history of this fund during the past few years, if truthfully written up, would form a very interesting book. It is good to know that conscience yet lives in this world in some people's hearts to whip them into acts of restitution.

PRESENT indications would seem to point to the nomination of General McCalmont, for Governor, by the Democracy. Cass has been virtually laid on the shelf, for the present at least. The oil regions, including the counties of Venango, Crawford, Warren, Clarion, Armstrong, Jefferson, Mercer and Erie are said to be a unit for McCalmont. A strong and active delegation will go in his interest from the above counties. The Post's ill-judged advocacy of General Cass has doubtless injured his prospects.

HON. JAMES G. BLAINE has been unanimously nominated for the sixth time, a Representative in Congress, by the Republicans of the Third, Maine, District. Mr. Blaine has made an able and faithful member, and has filled the Speaker's chair with great dignity and impartiality. He was a little out of the way in the formation of the present Committee of Ways and Means, and doubtless suffered some through this mistake. If he should live to take his seat in the next Congress, and be again elected Speaker, we hope for his own sake he will not make a similar error.

THE PROMPT measures taken by the commander of the U. S. war vessel Kansas, to prevent an outrage on an American steamer by the Spanish frigate Pizzaro, will be commended by all our people. The impudent conduct of these Spaniards will yet force our Government to give them a lesson on courtesy. A few more such attempts to interfere with our marine, will send a shot across a Spanish bow which may lead to something worse. We wonder if Spain really wishes to provoke a war with the United States. It looks that way sometimes; but surely they are treading on dangerous ground. In her present disturbed condition, Spain could make but a feeble resistance to the United States, and would have much to lose by a defeat. The recent speck of war in the West Indies proves that our naval officers are on the alert, and are ready for a tussle with the Dons.

PATIENCE under all circumstances is a cardinal virtue, but is peculiarly so at this time. All that the Democracy have to do—pending the Baltimore Convention—is to avoid unnecessary entanglements, organize perfectly, and be ready for the contest when it opens. The Baltimore Convention, which is the final oracle of the National Democracy, will no doubt act with that wisdom, inspired by the generous confidence of the people. In the meantime the great essential is to organize.—Pittsburgh Post.

We are right glad that the Post is growing patient. It awaits the Baltimore convention, the final oracle of the National Democracy, with a mild mannered meekness that is very pleasing to behold. It will swallow Greeley or any other candidate just as it would any other humble pie offered to the convention. Well, we are glad that the Post is veering around, for we know Greeley will be mad and will swear when he finds that its support is to be given him in Allegheny county.

THE NOTICE we published yesterday of General Negley's nomination of the successful candidates, who had received the highest number of marks before the committee appointed to examine them, shows a step in the right direction. We should be glad to see the same measure taken in all our public offices, civil, military and naval, to secure good men without their election being due to party influence or jobbery. If it is a free country as blazoned forth to the world, let its plums be open to good manly competition, and not left to successful politicians to dole out among their constituents, which makes every election day a source of squabble and recrimination. Surely our civil servants will not be less efficient for having passed through a lively mental competition, nor will office givers lose any patronage by such a system; in fact the onus of an inefficient employe will be taken off their shoulders and rest on the examiners. Kissing goes by favor, and if this system is not established you may expect every President, Senator, and Congressman to put into office, his own personal friend, or the friend of some political supporter; with it in operation the friend if not found worthy, and well qualified, gives place to the really industrious, perhaps self-educated youth who may come from the mass, yet who is as equally entitled to office as any one. Moreover the party in power can not make any enemies as he may nominate all his friends for examination and of course the best man wins.

MR. GREELEY, on the 5th of January, 1871, as presiding officer of the Republican General Committee of the City of New York, used the following language with reference to General Grant. He, apparently, was not at that time opposed to the re-election of a President. He said:

"As to the Administration of General Grant, I recognize no one as a Republican who is not grateful for its judicious, energetic, and successful efforts to procure the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment, that key-stone of our political arch, whereby the fruits of our great triumph over rebellion and slavery are assured and perpetuated. That the President has made mistakes in appointments is obvious. It would be strange, indeed, if one so inexperienced in the conduct of political affairs, had wholly escaped them. While asserting the right of every Republican to his untrammeled choice of a candidate for next President until a nomination is made, I venture to suggest that General Grant will be far better qualified for that momentous trust in 1872 than he was in 1868."

This is a tolerably good recommendation of Grant's fitness to serve another term as President. He has made a good Executive, and, according to Greeley, is better qualified now than when first elected. Why then oppose him now?

THE passage by the Senate of the House bill granting additional members of Congress to several States, mentioned elsewhere, gives Pennsylvania twenty-seven members of the House of Representatives. The present number is twenty-four—the gain is three. This law will devolve upon the State Central Committee the duty of nominating an additional Congressman at large, and also an additional elector to represent our party. Shall Allegheny county have this Congressman? It ought to be conceded to us without one word of dissent, in view of the magnitude of our interests and the work imposed upon our member. If the new apportionment had become a law Allegheny county would have had two Representatives in the next Congress. In that case we should not have asked for more; but since Governor Geary has seen fit to withhold his signature from the new law we are again in part thrown in the Twenty-third District along with Butler and Armstrong, and must depend upon them, or one of them, for a second member. We insist for other, and perhaps far weightier, reasons that Allegheny county be accorded the extra member; and let him be a sound, popular man.

WE are glad that the Post agrees so far with us in finding the degeneracy of the present aspect of affairs so "exceedingly sad." Other remarks, however, cause us deep regret, from the evident perverse desire it displays of continuing in its ignorance and folly; but it says truly: "This is the hour of deep and solemn thinking." And it is right; for very shortly all men will see how futile will be any effort to oust President Grant. Now is the time to pause, and reflect seriously ere you are involved in a labyrinth of such great magnitude, that you can never recover yourself. Take care friend the "great funeral" is not that of your own partisan. We thank you for the kind offer of your bandanna, keep it yourself, you'll need it soon. We won't weep over buried Democracy, it is too long since it was gathered to its fathers. The feeble infant upon whom now its greatness has fallen will never get vitality enough to give us any concern, and you can have the "ignominious funeral" all to yourself. We believed till now that the "only" had some followers left who might take a word of timely warning and save themselves; we did not wish to take them from you, but your egotism and lack of liberality remind us strongly of the Irish emigrant, who, upon being asked whom he would vote for, replied with astonishment on his face: "Have ye a govermint? Shure, then I'm agin it; I'm a Dimocrat."

THERE IS A fraternal feeling naturally existing between journalists. They may hammer away to their heart's content at each other, call hard names and make wry faces, but, like a family quarrel, it is generally best for an outsider to keep out of it, for, if he meddles, all parties will join in his abuse. In view of this hidden brotherly feeling existing in the fraternity, it is not surprising that the irate Devine, agent of the Western Associated Press in the Senate, should have so many defenders of his conduct in the papers of the country, as against Senator Conkling and others. It is not because he was right that he gains so much sympathy. We believe that he abused the high and responsible place he occupied, if it be true that he exercised favoritism in the discharge of his duties. It is the reporter's duty, at any and all times, to give facts, and only facts, and to know no one man better than another in his reports. The papers in the Western Associated Press have a good reason to feel outraged if an agent at any point abuses his power and imposes upon them reports intentionally mangled and distorted in order to gratify his own personal revenge. The whole matter should be promptly investigated by the Executive Committee of the Association that employs Devine, and, if he be found guilty of having abused his place, let him be at once discharged. It is due not only the wounded Senators, but every paper drawing news through that channel that this matter should be proved, and, if need be, an example made of the guilty representative.

CONGRESS AT WORK.

We are glad to see that the United States Senate, as a partial atonement for much time wasted in fruitless debate, and still more fruitless investigations, have resolved to spend the few remaining hours of the session in earnest work. Their all night session of Tuesday last is the best indication of returning reason that the dignified but indolent body has given for a long time. They have frittered away much time in fruitless investigations, and Buncombe speeches; but they can partly regain the confidence and respect of the country by going to work in earnest. The latest exploit of swearing each Senator, in order to discover the erring one who divulged the Alabama correspondence, is not encouraging to the belief of future good works, and reminds us of the hunt for the dog that was sent to buy the pepper. That dog has not yet been found, though the search has been rigid and long continued. We imagine that the Senator will not be found either, for it is more than likely that none of the "grave and reverend" noodles had anything to do with the matter. On the contrary we are persuaded that some enterprising Bohemian stole the documents from under the nose of a slumbering seignor, as it was his privilege to do. Do not such matters belong to the people?

But we must give to the Senate its full due, if, in the absence of Doolittles, it should do less than it ought to do. (Pardon the punning.) It has passed the habeas corpus suspension bill, otherwise known as "the bayonet bill," which provides for the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, when in the judgment of the President, it should be done. It is merely a hint to the bands of Ku-Klux that they shall not murder inoffensive colored men for exercising the right of suffrage at the ensuing fall elections. If there is no general disorder throughout the South, such as shall prove too powerful to be put down by the courts, the writ will not be suspended. But should the murderous bands again attempt to make night hideous, and life a torture, the President will exercise the right given him by this law, and call out the military to preserve the peace. Does any good citizen object to this?

The Civil Rights bill, as it passed the House some time ago, has been adopted in the Senate. This righteous measure confers full civil privileges upon the colored men, and upon all persons alike, including the right to ride in railroad cars, steamboats and vessels, and everywhere to be treated as an American citizen regardless of color, race or previous condition. Who objects to this?

The Amnesty bill has also been adopted. This is the House bill, which pardons all who engaged in rebellion against the country except Senators and Representatives who violated their oaths to support and sustain the Constitution of the United States, and other prominent members of the Government at the time they perjured themselves by engaging in rebellion against the country. All else are granted a full and complete pardon, with every right under the Constitution and laws restored to them. The President has already signed this bill, and it is the law of the land. It is in accordance with his repeatedly expressed wish, that all except the few prominent leaders should receive full pardon for participation in rebellion. Lastly, this fruitful night session disposed of the bill allowing additional members of the House to the States of New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana, thus adding ten members, and making the House consist of 293 members, or less than one-half of the English House of Commons.

Now let Congress dispose of the civil and sundry appropriation bills, the Alabama supplemental treaty, the House tariff bill, and it can adjourn and point with some little pride to its record. The session has been fruitful of many investigations, out of which nothing came—much talk, and some good to the country.

IRON AND COAL.

The excitement at present in Great Britain, on the subject of its mineral resources lead us to the contemplation of those of our own country. The fact that the future yield of British coal and iron ore is already estimated, and that of the whole of Europe is quite inadequate for more than their own use, it is with more than ordinary satisfaction we look upon the vastness of our own mineral wealth almost untouched. The subject is attracting considerable attention both from scientists, capitalists and laborers, for immediate results and also from the Continent at large as an increase to our power and internal resources. Iron and coal are the gods of Great Britain, the secret of her wealth, her power, her prosperity, and as those fade from her so will she decrease. Now, here, capital, science and labor are shaking hands over the prospects before them, and as an able speaker said lately at a meeting in New York city of mining engineers:

"In looking back over the sad and gloomy fields of suffering among the European mines and works which I have traversed so often, and in looking forward to the more cheerful prospect now spread out before the sons of toil, I am tempted to exclaim with the patriarch: "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen thy salvation."

Many would sympathize with his ideas, if they knew that in the old country iron has been made at too low a price to allow the laborer a share of the necessaries of life, let alone its comforts, as there the supply was greater than the demand. Hitherto labor and capital had been at war, and where nature intended harmony, there was nothing but discord. Science acting as the great mediator between capital and labor has nearly accomplished its work, and now, to-day, on these shores, we find them drawing closer and closer by a strong bond of friendship and self-interest. Here one will demand, and the other will be ready to give proper remuneration for adequate services.

Speaking of the future the same gentleman before quoted, says:

"As New York will be the centre of capital so also will it be the inital point of our iron and steel industry. On the shores of the Hudson river the ores of Lake Champlain, of the valleys of Connecticut, and of the highland ranges of New York and New Jersey will meet the anthracite coals of Pennsylvania upon conditions so favorable that New York and its vicinity must become a great metallurgical centre. Thence the chain of fire, extending across New Jersey and following the banks of the Lehigh and Schuylkill to the Susquehanna, will lead us by the margin of the coal fields, along the outcrop of the magnetic, hematite, and fossiliferous ores which extend through Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, and Alabama, near to the Gulf, so that the light of furnace answering to furnace will never be lost sight of in the long line of over one thousand miles. Hence, turning to the West, Missouri, Kentucky, Western Tennessee, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois will be all aglow with furnaces, forges, and mills, fed by the admirable fuel of the inexhautible coal fields of the West and the superb ores of Missouri and Lake Superior. The waters of the great lakes will reflect the flames which light up their margin, while to the west, along the line of the various Pacific railways, the newly-found coal and iron of that hitherto trackless region will form an enduring basis for the growth of industrious communities, busy cities and teeming farms. The west coast will not be behind in the race, but an iron industry, more valuable than its mines of gold and silver, will yet supply its growing millions with the fundamental basis upon which modern civilization rests. The growth of this vast industry will be accompanied by the schoolmaster, the preacher and the physician. Homes of which human nature may be proud will be established in its wake, labor and Christianity will march hand in hand, binding all interests and all classes so harmoniously and so indissolubly together, that peace and good will between capital and labor shall prevail throughout the land forever.

Our Candidate for Auditor General.

[From the East Brady Independent.]

General Allen was born December 4th, 1836, in the town of Russellsburg, Warren county, Pennsylvania. He was reared on a farm, which occupation he followed until he had reached the age of eighteen years, and during the winter attended the district school. In the fall of 1854, he attended the Academy at Jamestown, N. Y., afterwards taught school during the winter at Farmington, Warren county, meeting with excellent success. During 1855 and 1856, he attended the Academy at Randolph, New York and again taught school in the winter. In the spring of 1856, he engaged in lumbering, thus earning every dollar by his industry, and laying the foundation of his future success. In 1857 and 1858, he attended the Fredonia Academy, and as an evidence of determination, always lead his classes, and in all literary exercises. In declamation and general exercises he carried away the highest honors, and was successively President of the literary societies to which he belonged.

In 1859 he entered the law office of Judges Johnson & Brown, of Warren, Pa., concluding his studies in 1861, when he volunteered for the three month's service, on the 20th of April of that year.

At the end of his term he re-enlisted his company for three years. He established Camp Wright, above Pittsburgh, driving the first peg on the ground, and had command of the camp until relieved by Colonel McLean, of Erie. At that time the Tenth Regiment of Pennsylvania Reserves was organized at Camp Wilkins, including his company, and he was elected Major of the regiment by the men and commissioned by the Governor.

With his regiment he passed into the army of the Potomac, and in 1862 organized the 151st regiment, P. V., and elected Colonel by his men, and served during the full term of his enlistment. He was breveted Brigadier General, and complimented by every commanding officer with whom he served, including Generals Ord, Doubleday, Rowley, Mead and Reynolds and proudly challenges the record for a word of discredit.

He was absent twenty days during three years and three months.

In 1865 he was elected to the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania from the Warren and Venango district; in 1866 he was renominated by acclamation, and was elected by a majority of 1,182, leading Geary for Governor considerably. He served faithfully, and with satisfaction to all parties, and during his term made an eloquent and telling speech on Constitutional Amendment.

He was a delegate at large to the Soldiers' Convention at Chicago, in 1868, which nominated Grant, and also delegate to the National Convention. In 1869 he was a candidate for State Senate in the Mercer, Warren and Venango district, against Judge Whetmore, and after a very bitter fight on the part of Whetmore's friends, he carried 79 out of 99 delegates in Warren county. Whetmore withdrew and Gen. Allen was nominated by acclamation. After a bitter and and determined fight by the Democrats and disappointed Republicans, and the use of much money against him, he was elected by nearly ten hundred majority.

THE second annual Ohio stock fair will be held in Tiffin, June 4, 5, 6 and 7. The premium list is very liberal in its offers, with special premiums for cattle and sheep.

MISS COUTTS, THE BANKER.

The anecdote that lately appeared concerning Miss Burdett Coutts has called to mind some [illegible] and some facts concerning her bank that may be of general interest just now.

The banking house of Coutts & Co. is the repository of all the old English aristocracy, who, from the Queen down, mostly bank there. There are rich old dowages, maiden ladies and honorables, the old English baronet with his estate in the rich pastures of Berkshire and Kent and his "shooting box" up in the north, the statesman, peer, old foreign ruler—they all intrust the house of Coutts & Co. with their funds. The Queen has banked there for years, and, indeed, the immense wealth of Miss Coutts and of the bank is totally due to the patronage of royalty bestowed upon her ancestors—the founders of the bank. Her "pass-book" is a most handsome book, inlaid with gold, bearing the royal arms, in which all the entries are made in the handsomest and most ornamental of writing. Indeed, it is one man's work to attend to Her Majesty's account, which is superintended by the "Keeper of the Privy Purse." The Emperor Napoleon, too, much as he would like us to believe to the contrary, kept an account there, and the house prior to the fall of the Empire, was continually making purchases of English Consols on his order. There is no doubt that Napoleon had a short time ago a considerable sum invested in these English securities, as have most European potentates at the present time.

Another great feature with the house of Coutts & Co. is the large deposit of jewelry, family papers, titles, and other articles of value that are left in their hands for safe keeping. There are hundreds of large, heavy family cases in their vaults, and during the season in London, ladies go daily "to the bank" (they like to make use of the phrase) to take out some valuable ornament for the opera, etc., or to return some after use. There are clerks whose especial duty it is to see to the wants of these ladies.

The great success of Coutts' banking house is due almost to accident, as you will see. Burdett Coutts, one of the founders, was a modest banker on the Strand, London, in George III.'s reign, and he made it a practice, as his bank was situated some distance from the so-called "city," in order to keep himself "posted" on the the financial movements going on there, to dine with some of the leading city bankers and bank managers as often as opportunity would permit. It was during one of these reunions that a bank official casually remarked his surprise that Lord —— had been refused a loan of £10,000 that day at his bank. The circumstance was noted by the West End banker, and, the dinner over, he repaired at once to the house of the nobleman, left his card, requesting his lordship to call at his office on the following morning on business of great importance.

The next morning Lord —— was announced to Mr. Coutts, and, on his inquiring what business had necessitated his visit, the banker at once informed him that as a banker he had heard that his Lordship desired a loan of £10,000, and he respectfully offered him his services.

"But I can give you no security, Mr. Coutts," said his Lordship, as the banker commenced counting a small package of crisp bank notes that were on his desk.

"Your Lordship's note of hand will be quite sufficient," gallantly responded the West End banker, as he handed him a note to sign.

"But I do not think I shall now want as mush as ten thousand pounds," hesitated the nobleman.

"That is immaterial, your Lordship," replied the banker.

"On second thought I will take the ten thousand, and, as I shall only need five thousand, you will please place the remainder to my credit as an opening of an account with you in my name."

The banker thanked his new customer, escorted him with much politeness to his carriage at the door, and then bade him "Good day."

The action of the banker was a long-sighted one. It was a good investment. The balance was soon increased, the loan returned, and the nobleman commenced to tell the story round at the Court of St. James of the wonderful accommodating spirit of the West End banker. Others soon deposited their funds in his hands, and the story was so well circulated at the palace that the King's curiosity was aroused, and he informed the banker's patron of his desire to meet the banker.

Coutts went finally. He was introduced to the King, and his quiet, modest manners won the favor of the court. His presence at the court created quite a sensation, for it was soon afterwards reported that the King had given his private finances into the keeping of Burdett Coutts. The rest of the court soon followed the example of the King, and thus was secured to the house the wealthy patronage of the aristocracy of England.

Miss Burdett Coutts has, as is well known, the interests of the employees of the bank much at heart. It is a hard matter to get into the bank. Noblemen's sons now seek positions in the establishment, and some of the partners are noblemen. College educated men are alone taken as clerks, and then an examination is gone through, which is conducted with the same strictness as is the examination into the family, reputation and general recommendations of the applicant. For every vacancy there are hundreds of applicants. But when admitted, a clerk has a fine position. He will be told, on his being admitted, that he must not wear a moustache, but simply side whiskers; and in his dress, although nothing will be said to him on the subject, every modesty will be expected of him. This is done on account of the great dislike the real aristocracy of England have for the gaudy, showy fop of the middle classes, who so often, in his ignorance and self-conceit, apes the gentleman.

The clerks are all supplied with dinner inside the establishment, at the present personal expense of Miss Burdett Coutts, and they owe this good fortune (for the dinner, "lunch," as it is called, is first-class) merely to accident.

It appears that on one occasion Miss Burdett Coutts entered the bank shortly after one o'clock, and remarked to one of the partners that the bank seemed very empty. "Where are the gentlemen?" she inquired.

"They have gone to lunch, as they generally do every day at about this time," answered the partner.

She expressed herself as not approving of "the gentlemen" going out in all weathers from one coffee house to another in search of a meal, and she then inquired if there were no possible remedy for it.

She then asked why they could not dine at the bank.

"Extra expense," suggested the partner, whereupon Miss Burdett Coutts authorizes the providing of a meal regularly for the gentlemen and her account to be debited with the necessary expense.

And thus it is ever with her. She is always on the watch for the opportunity to do some benefit with her wealth. To say that those clerks worship her and her good heart does not exaggerate their feelings of respect and love for her.

SEVERAL WEEKS AGO we endeavored to show that locust wood for paving purposes was the very best and most suitable, especially where durability, smoothness and elasticity are needed. We observe by an official report, that in Cincinnati the round block locust pavement has been most successfully experimented with. It has been laid nearly three years on a great highway in that city, and, by actual measurement, was found to have lost in wear on the surface not quite one-fourth of one inch, and was as sound as when driven down. Pine blocks, tested for the same time on the same thoroughfare, lost over two inches, and were decayed throughout. This fact sustains our argument in favor of locust blocks for paving purposes. We firmly believe that a pavement of this wood will last four times as long as one of pine.

A VERY interesting case of the successful transfusion of blood from one person to another is described by Professor Judgeson of Berlin, in a recent number of a medical journal published in that city. His patient was a man twenty-eight years of age, who had been poisoned by phosphorus, having taken a solution of the ignition mass of eight bundles of matches on the ninth of December. On the 11th of February, the activity of the heart having been excited by champaigne, a transfusion of 580 cubic centimetres of blood, which had just been taken from three persons in good health, was effected, into a vein of the arm 500 cubic centimetres of the patient's own blood, being at the same time taken from an artery. An improvement in his condition at once set in, and he was able to leave his bed early in March.

THERE comes to us the report that the Emperor of China is about to be married. He is not yet sixteen years of age, but is represented as a person having judgment beyond his years. He signalized the anniversary of his ascension to the throne by liberating all but the first criminals of the empire.

POLITICAL NOTES.

While we propose to have the Manufacturer participate in the political campaign, we must enter protest against the associations which Mr. Greeley formed to gratify his ambition. All the protection he has ever advocated is swallowed up in the one act of affiliating with such free-traders as manipulated his nomination. Protection could not be maintained by the people who call themselves Liberals, nor meet with a response from them. Mr. Greeley [illegible] made a huge mistake in trying to [illegible] Presidential field, as he will find [illegible] crop of tares.—American Manufacturer.

[illegible] now, if the cotton States consider the value of the Union debateable, we maintain their perfect right to discuss it. Nay, we hold with Jefferson to the inalienable right of communities to altar or abolish forms of government that have been oppressive or injurious; and, if the cotton States shall decide that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace. The right to secede may be a revolutionary one, but it exists nevertheless; and we do not see how one party can have a right to do what another party has a right to prevent. We must ever resist the asserted right of any State to remain in the Union, and nullify or defy the laws thereof; to withdraw from the Union is quite another matter. And, whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in. We hope never to live in a Republic whereof one section is pinned to the residue by bayonets. But, while we thus uphold the practical liberty, if not the abstract right of secession, we must insist that the step be taken, if it ever shall be, with the deliberation and gravity befitting so momentous an issue. Let ample time be given for reflection; let the subject be fully canvassed before the people; and let a popular vote be taken in every case, before secession is decreed. Let the people be told just why they are asked to break up the confederation; let them have both sides of the question fully presented; let them reflect, deliberate, then vote; and let the act of secession be the echo of an unmistakable popular fiat. A judgment thus rendered, a demand for separation so backed, would either be acquiesced in without the effusion of blood, or those who rushed upon carnage to defy and defeat it, would place themselves clearly in the wrong.—N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 9, 1860.

PROVIDE AGAINST DANGER

At this season all the great lines of travel begin to swarm with human beings intent on business or pleasure. Are these moving multitudes aware of the danger which ensues from drinking different varieties of water and breathing atmospheres to which their lungs are unaccustomed? Do they realize how important it is to be pre-armed with an antidote that will defend their systems from the evil consequences of such changes and from all the ailments and disturbances which arise from miasma so plentifully evolved from the soil at this period of the year? Such an antidote—certain in its protective operation and free from everything objectionable in its composition and flavor—has been for twenty years before the world. No instance can be adduced, during that period, in which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has failed as an acclimating medicine, or as a preventive of the bodily ills to which the undefended system is liable in unhealthy localities.

A good appetite, perfect digestion, a vigorous condition of the nervous system, functional regularity, and a pure and active circulation, are the elements of health, and these signal blessings may be secured and perpetuated by the use of this powerful, yet harmless, vegetable tonic. Such is the experience of all who have ever taken it as a safeguard against the diseases which debility, irregularity and a morbid condition of the solids and fluids of the body are sure to invite.

Sickness of Forty Years' Duration Cured.

The cure related below is one of a very remarkable kind, on account of its long duration, and is well worthy of the attention of all those who may be afflicted with chronic disease of any kind, showing clearly that all such cases can be cured. It is that of Jacob Wagner, a respectable farmer, aged 63 years, of New Sewickley township, who has been in gradually failing health for a period of about forty years. The disease manifested itself by a continued cough and a wasting state of health, which, about the beginning of last October, culminated in an attack which showed that the lungs were becoming seriously affected. Mr. Wagner, in this state of his case, applied to Dr. Keyser, of this city, who, by a system of medicine of a restorative kind, has completely cured him and restored him to a state of health to which he has been a stranger for many long and weary years. His cure is thorough and complete, and evinces an amount of skill and perseverance in the treatment of such cases, by Dr. Keyser, which is rarely if ever attained in a life time. The cure was chiefly effected by Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, and is another of the many instances of the wonderful restorative power of that medicine, in the cure of every disease of long standing, especially those in which the pulmonary organs and the blood are deteriorated.

Dr. Keyser's office is at 167 Liberty street, in the rear of his Drug Store, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 until 6 P. M., and on Saturday's at night.

A treatise on Lung Diseases sent wherever it is wanted.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, May 23, 1872.

Local finances continue to work smoothly, and, on the part of borrowers, there is no complaint. The National banks absorb most of the loans applied for, and what is left over falls into the hands of the savings banks and private bankers who, when parties are worthy of credit, readily manipulate the applications for discounts at about one per cent. above regular bank rates. The large and constantly increasing trade of Pittsburgh must attract capital to it, for wherever the demand is greatest, there will flow the needed commodity to meet it. This city, on account of its wonderful natural resources, is drawing the attention of the men of science and wealth, not only of the United States, but also those of the large cities of Europe; and, as day succeeds day, the prospect for the accumulation of capital at this great centre becomes more and more certain. And those of our readers who have risked much in the way of improvement and increased facilities become more and more assured of the inevitable success of their ventures. It should be the aim of allour business men to give prominent publicity at all times, when the occasion offers, to the insurpassable advantages possessed by this locality over that of any other in this country, or, we might suggest, in the world.

Among the many investments in our market, seeking purchases, we desire to call the attention of our capitalists to the City of Pittsburgh River Avenue seven per cent. registered bonds, and the Water Loan bonds, paying also seven per cent. These securities are free from State, county and municipal taxation, looked upon as equal in value to anything of this character in the market; gold, which receded an eighth, has again advanced to 114.

Our eastern exchanges quote money as abundant, with but light demand. The Western papers, in regard to financial matters, talk in the same strain. The Cincinnati Commercial, of the 22d, says: The demand for money was only moderate to-day, and the banks were able to fully meet it, so that there was a scarcity of good Paper outside, where money is seeking investments at rates as low as the banks charge.

Owing to the upward tendency of gold, the shipments of grain and other products are becoming very large. We note that the steamer Alice, from St. Louis, arrived at New Orleans on last Saturday with 111,446 bushels bulk corn and 10,816 miscellaneous packages, this being one of the largest loads of produce ever delivered in Crescent City by any one boat.

NEW YORK, May 23, 1872.

Money easy at 5@6. Gold dull and easier; 113⅞@113⅞. Loans 1 to 5 for carrying. Clearances $32,000,000. The Treasury sold $2,000,000 at 114.02 to 114.13. Treasury disbursements $89,000. Export, Saturday $1,500,000. Governments strong. State bonds dull and steady. Stocks dull, except Pacific Mail, which was depressed by rumors that parties who bought for the election found themselves with more stock than was needed. Pacific opened at 80⅜ and fell to 77¾; rallied to 79⅝ and closed at 78⅜. The rest of the list was somewhat unsettled, with a decline in Erie and Quicksilver; otherwise the market was steady. New York Central, C. C. & I. C., strong and higher. The early settlement of the Pacific Mail muddle is anticipated, and will doubtless give fresh life and activity to the general market. There have been large sales of Erie within the past few days for foreign account.

Sterling exchange 109½.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, May 23, 1872.

ASHES.—Soda Ash is quoted at 4¾ to 5 for common; refined, 5½@6; nitrate, 5 to 5½; pots, 10; pearls, 11.

APPLES—Continue dull, in consequence mainly of the abundance of vegetables, and, notwithstanding the arrivals are light, and the supply small, it is fully equal to the demand, and prices are barely sustained; we continue to quote at $5 to $6 per bbl., for good to choice.

BUTTER—Is in good supply, and the arrivals continue liberal, and the market is generally reported dull, especially for packed, though prices are without quotable change. Sales of solid packed at 15 to 22, and roll at 23 to 25, according to quality.

BEANS—Continue very scarce, and there is considerable inquiry; we continue to quote at $2,50 to $3,25 per bushel, the outside figure for prime navy.

BROOM CORN—Is as dull as ever, but there is no change in prices; we continue to quote at 4 to 8 cts ₶ lb.

CHEESE—Is in good supply, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained; sales, in a jobbing way, at 12 to 12½ for Dairy; 13½ to 14 for Factory; and 14½ to 15 for Goshen.

CARBON OIL—Is quiet and unchanged: 19½ to 20, by the car load, and 2 to 3 cts additional for smaller lots.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 4½ to 5; Clear Sides, 6 to 6½; Hams, 8 to 9. Country Lard, 7 to 8 cts, according to quality and condition.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,50 ₶ case.

CANNED GOODS—Peaches (3 lb cans) $6,00 to $7 per case; Tmatoes $4,50@5; Corn, $5,50@7,00, according to quality and brand.

CEMENT—Louisville $2,50 to $2,75; Calcined Plaster $4,50; Cleveland white Lime, $2; eastern, $1,75.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches continue dull but unchanged; halves, 9 to 9½; mixed, 7 to 8; quarters; 6 to 7; peeled, 15 to 20. Apples in demand, and the supply, especially for anything good, is very much reduced; we continue to quote at 8 to 10 cents for medium to prime. Blackberries, 16 to 17; pitted Cherries, 27 to 30; unpitted, 6 to 8.

EGGS—With an increased demand, and diminished receipts, the market is firmer, though prices are not quotably higher, 14 to 15—dealers generally are now holding, and refusing to sell below 15.

FEATHERS—No. 1 live geese feathers may be quoted at 80 cents to the trade, and 5 to 8 cents more in a jobbing way. Mixed stock 40 to 60 cents, according to quality.

FLOUR—The market is steady, with a fair local trade, and prices are still maintained; $8,75 to $9,25 for fair to choice Spring, and $9,50 $10 for red Winter. One dealer gave it his opinion, to-day, that the present prices of Winter wheat flour could not be sustained much longer, while another dealer, equally as well posted, thought that Spring wheat will be the first to break, and he based this on the reports of the Spring wheat crop promising a bigger yield than Winter. The future of the flour market is very misty, but the general feeling is that in no event will prices go much higher. Rye Flour quiet and unchanged at $6.

GRAIN—The market for grain is easier than it was a few days ago, the recent rains having quieted somewhat the apprehensions in regard to the growing crops, though as yet there has been but little change in prices. As noted in our last report, the millers are becoming bearish in regard to Wheat, predicting that prices must soon go lower, but it is not likely that winter will drop much until it becomes plentier—at present our market, excepting what is held by the mills, is entirely fare, and we repeat former quotations, $2,10 to $2,15 for red, and $2,20 to $2,25 for white, according to quality. There is little or no inquiry for Spring wheat at present, and we are cognizant of some lots on the market unsold. Oats quiet and unchanged; 54 to 56 for mixed to white. There is less inquiry for Shelled Corn, but, with light receipts and a comparatively light supply, prices are maintained; 68 to 70 for mixed to prime yellow. There appears to be no movement in Ear Corn, except in a jobbing way. Rye is in light supply but nominally unchanged; $1 to $1,05.

GROCERIES—The Coffee market, in the east, continues to grow stronger each succeeding day, and, as noted in our last repor, the importers seem to be masters of the situation; they hold the great bulk of the stock, and, in consequence, are enabled to make the price, and buyers have the privilege of taking it at the advanced quotations or letting it alone—thus far the most of our dealers are chosing the latter alternative. They seem determined to adhere to the policy they have been pursuing for some months past, of carrying just as little stock as they con possibly help, and besides, there is nothing in it at present prices, anyhow, as Coffee is lower here relatively than it is in the east. Sugars are easy, and the impression prevails to some extent that now is the time to stock up; however, the same feeling prevailed some time since in regard to syrups, and many acted accordingly; yet syrups are considerably lower now than they were then, and there is no telling but what Sugars may still go lower. New Orleans Molasses scarce, firm and higher.

REFINED SUGARS.—Standard Hards, 13; A Coffee, 12; B, 11¾; Ex C, 11⅝; C Yellow and Circle C, 11¼. These quotations are for straight brands.

COFFEE.—Rio—Choice, 25@25½; Prime, 24@24½; Good, 23½; Fair, 23. Java, 28. Roasted, pure, 28; lower grades, 25@26.

RAW SUGARS.—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10¾; Good, 10; Fair, 9¼. Choice Porto Rico, 10¾; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11¾; Good, 11¼.

NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES.—Choice, 80; Prime, 75; Good, 70; Fair, 65.

SYRUPS.—Fancy White Drips, 70; White Honey, 60; Havemeyer & Elder's, 60@62; other grades, from 40@50.

RICE.—Carolina—Choice, 9½; Prime, 9¼; Good, 9. Rangoon, 8@8¼. Patna, 8½@9.

SPICES.—Grain Pepper, 24; do Pimento, 16; Cassia, 50; Cloves, 25; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged; we can report sales of baled at $28 to $32 per ton, according to quaqity. The receipts comparatively light, but the supply is fully equal to the demand.

OILS—No. 1, extra lard oil is quoted, in a jobbing way, at 78@89 and No. 2 at 60 to 62.

POTATOES—We have to report a continued dull market, and, as holders generally are anxious to realize, and the market is overstocked, and the season for old stock is growing late, prices are weak and drooping; we continue to quote at 60 to 70 cts per bushel for small lots, according to quality.

POULTRY—Live Chickens may be quoted at 75 to 85 cts per pair, by the coop.

PEA NUTS—Sales at 8½@9cts per lb.

PROVISIONS—Plain shoulders, 6½cts; sugar cured do, 8cts; ribbed sides, 8cts; clear rib, 8½cts; clear, 9cts. Breakfast Bacon, 10½@11cts; plain sugar cured hams, 12; do, canvased, 12½. Lard; in tierces, 9¾; in kegs, 11¼; in buckets, 11½. Mess Pork, $15. Dried Beef, 17½. Ham sausage, 10.

RAGS—Sales at 4@4½cts per lb.

SALT—Is still quoted at $1,85 per bbl by the car load, and $2 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Flax Seed is scarce, and in demand $1,90 to $1,95. There is little or nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds, and we omit quotations.

TALLOW—Pen dried, 7½ to 8 cts.

WHISKY—Highwines firm but unchanged—92cts in a jobbing way.

WOOL—We have nothing special to add since our last weekly report on Wool. The shearing will be later than usual, owing to the late cold weather. Small lots of the new clip are beginning to arrive and sell at a range of 60 to 70 cts. We do not hear of any purchases being made in the country as yet woqth quoting. Wool growers are anticipating higher prices and will, no doubt, be slow to sell; on the other hand but few agents of Eastern manufacturers (such as was usually find every year at the opening of the new clip) are ventilating through the country. In fact, we do not see any margin of profit for shippers at prices now current in the Eastern market, and, with the reduction in the tariff and the large sales of foreign wools, we do not think that manufacturers will be disposed, for the present, to purchase wools in the country at anything like the prices demanded by the growers; however, time will tell. We quote prices nominal.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, May 23, 1872.

Trade continues very dull, and the market is in that monotonous condition that has characterized it for several days past; operators, of course, are very much discouraged, but they still entertain hopes of an early improvement, and it is earnestly desired that their expectations may be fully realized. As compared with yesterday, there is little or no change to note in prices. Crude is weaker, and lower; quoted at $3,95 to $4 per bbl at Parker. Refined, dull and unchanged.

Wool Markets.

NEW YORK.—The New York Shipping List says: There is a little better feeling in Foreign. Many manufacturers having been compelled to supply their almost exhausted stocks, prices for nearly all kinds have slightly appreciated. The bulk of the Foreign has arrived, and stocks not being large, still better prices are looked for. Australian and Cape especially have been in fair demand, with rumors of considerable sales, but we were unable to authenticate them. For South American there is but little inquiry at the moment. The sales are 30,000 lbs. Australian at 63 to 72 cents; 27,000 lbs. Buenos Ayres, 40; 3,000 lbs. East India, 37 to 39; 12,500 lbs. Montevideo, 51½; and 50,000 lbs. Rio Grande, on private terms. In Domestic there is no change. Texas, of the new clip, is arriving freely and in good condition, and is held at about 48 to 52cts for good qualities, and 35 to 42 for burry, with sales of a few small lots slightly burry at 45. For a lot of 30,000 lbs. good, 50 cents was refused. Georgia comes forward slowly, and only some small lots have been sold at about 55 cts; 25,000 lbs. was bought in Georgia to come here at 55 cents. California is backward, and little is on the way; the sales are 6,000 lbs. choice super at 82½ cents; 2,400 lbs. do. very fine, 85; 10,000 lbs. Michigan, 75 to 76; 10,000 lbs. extra Pulled, 68; 10,000 lbs. California Fall clip, and 16,000 lbs. scoured Pulled, on terms not made public.

BOSTON—The Boston Shipping List of the 18th inst. says: The market continues in the same quiet state noticed for some weeks past. Manufacturers are purchasing only to meet present wants, and owners are anxious to realize, although no pressure to sell under current rates. The sales of the week embrace 165,000 lbs. Domestic, and 675,000 lbs. Foreign—in all, 840,005 lbs. In Foreign descriptions the particulars are as follows:—194,000 lbs. Australian at 60 to 65 cents; 150,000 lbs. do. at about 58½; 166,000 lbs. Cape, 44 to 47; 25,000 lbs. Entre Rios, 46 to 47½; 4,300 lbs. Montevideo, 52½; 10,000 lbs. choice do., 55; 40,000 lbs. Kalmuck, 21; 7,000 lbs. East India, 60, and 33,000 lbs., various kinds, on private terms. A lot of 12,000 lbs. Camels' Hair sold on private terms. In Sheep Skins, sales of 25,000 lbs. Mestiza, on private terms; and 76,000 lbs. Montevideo at 34½ ₶ lb.

Iron Market.

NEW YORK—The arrivals of Scotch Pig have been large, and buyers hold off; though no large transactions have taken place on the spot, prices are weaker. Several thousand tons, brands not named, to arrive at Philadelphia, part to come here, sold on private terms, but said to be at lower prices than our quotations. We quote to arrive $49@50, and spot $50@52. We note sales of 200@300 tons Glengarnock from dock at $50, and 50 do., on private terms. We quote Gartsherrie $52@53, with sales of 50 tons at $52. American is scarce, and the market is very firm at $50@52 for No. 1, $48@51 for No. 2, and $45@49 for No. 3 and Gray Forge, with sales of only 50 tons, No. 1, at $50. English Rails are steady, but quiet at $75, gold; old Rails, on spot, are quiet. Some 15,000 tons have been taken up during the past month in England for shipment here, and to Philadelphia at £8 15s. ₶ ton. We quote for T. and Double Headed here $48@51, with sales of 200 tons spot, on private terms. 200 tons No. 1 Scrap, from yard, sold at $59 per ton. Refined Bar from store is very firm at our quotations. Common Sheets are firm at previous rates, and the foreign market is stronger than ever for all descriptions. Last sale of Russia Sheet, 19 cents gold.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—(From Circular of Edward Samuel)—Pig Iron without change, few sales being made. Old Rails offered at reduced prices, but are difficult to dispose of. The Foreign market firm, at higher figures than lots are offered at here. Manufactured Iron unchanged, and most of the mills working to their full capacity.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Domestic dry goods were quiet to-day, with the exception of brown sheetings and shirtings, the staple qualities in which have declined a half cent, at which rates a good business was done. The New York Bulletin says the chief feature in to-day's business was the marking down of most descriptions of staple brown sheetings, as well as some of the other makes. This result as it was foreseen was likely to be brought about by the general dullness which prevailed, although in the face of dearer cotton. Up to yesterday the market was in that position that concessions to the extent indicated would insure large sales and induce buyers to lay hold of staples with a spirit. The result of concession has been some very large transactions at figures now quoted. Atlantics may be noted a ½c. lower all through; the same may be said of Slater's and others; bleached goods keep their old position, with no immediate prospect of change. Printing cloths for spot 64x64 are quoted at 7⅜c.; other kinds are as formerly. The auction sales were poorly attended, and foreign goods are dull.

Live Stock.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising yesterday under the influence of the recent rains, and last evening the marks indicated 2 feet 10 inches. Weather continues cloudy and unsettled, with every prospect of more rain.

The little steamer L C M'Cormick, is the only arrival and departure, we have to record. She will, we understand, extend her trips to Rochester, hereafter.

The Key West, Capt. John Todds' mountain steamer, is rapidly approaching completion, and will soon be ready to take her departure to the Big Muddy.

The West Virginia, will take her departure from the wharfboat, above the bridge, at 7 o'clock this morning, for Brownsville.

—A St. Louis special to the Cincinnati Commercial under date of Tuesday says: About 7 o'clock this morning a large field of drift came down by the city, striking the Phil. Sheridan and Belle of Lacrosse, which lay above the bridge, and breaking them loose and sending them adrift. They passed between the bridge piers without striking, but floated against the Minneapolis with such force, as to cut down a barge which lay on the upper side boat, and doing considerable other injury. The barge is all that saved the Minneapolis from being sunk; The repairs to the boats will be completed tomorrow. The barge was towed to the lower end of the levee, where it filled, although it did not go down. It will be pumped out. The value of the cargo was about $6,000, which will be saved in a damaged condition. It was insured. Commodore Davidson was on the Sheridan at the time of the accident, and says at one time that the boats and drift would rake the whole levee.

—The Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday, says: At the assigneee's sale on 'Change, yesterday, of the stock assets of David Gibson & Co., W. C. Vanderbilt purchased 60 shares ($50 each) of the Maysville & Cincinnati Packet Company stock for 40 cents on the dollar, and 10 shares ($100 each) of the Portsmouth & Cincinnati Packet Company stock for 50 cents on the dollar. The same gentleman bought 20 shares ($50 each) of the Cincinnati & Portsmouth Packet Company stock for $25 the lot. Five shares ($100 each) of the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Company stock were bought by J. A. Pomeroy, $17 25 the lot. Stock in the Andes, Germania, Eureka and Union Insurance companies were sold to different parties for prices as quoted in our financial department. $40,000 worth of stock in the Malon Safety Valve Company only brought $9 00, and $19,000 worth of stock in the Ohio and Mississippi Transportation Company brought $5 00 the lot.

—The Memphis Avalanche, of Monday says: Edward Phoebus, who for ten or twelve years past has been a pilot between here and Vicksburg, and also to White River, died of consumption, last Wednesday, at the residence of his brother in this city. During the last three or four years Mr. Phoebus has been employed on the steamers A. J. White and G. W. Cheek. He was about 35 years of age at the time of his death.

—The Louisville Courier says: Capt. Samuel Houston, Supervising Inspector of the Sixth District, has gone to Little Rock. Rumor says that he is on personal business, that business being to try and secure the nomination for Governor of Arkansas, and, if he should fail in that, he will then make an attempt to get the nomination for Sheriff of Little Rock County. This is mere rumor, however, and we give it for what it is worth.

—Captain Moore, of the Arlington, has received a letter from Wellsville, Ohio, announcing the death, on Saturday last, of Mr. P. F. Geisse, the well known steamboat engine builder of that place. He has built a large number of ferryboats, the new transfer steamer plying between Columbus, Ky., and Belmont, being one of his last works. He died of paralysis, and was about fifty-five years of age.

—June 1st the Government will cease to telegraph the rise and fall in western rivers, but will continue to furnish the stage of water at different points, and require the observers at all stations to keep an accurate record of the rise and fall.

—A bill has been introduced into the United States Senate asking the erection of a marine hospital at Sioux City.

HOME NEWS.

Y. M. C. A.—The bible class at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this (Friday) evening will be led by Wm. Bakewell, Esq. Subject "Gehazi's sin." All are invited.

We desire to call our readers' attention to the elegant assortment of Gents and Ladies Gold Watches and Opera Chains just arrived at Geo. W. Biggs, No. 159 Smithfield street, four doors above Sixth avenue. Give him a call and be convinced.

The Water Committee of the city of Pittsburgh are requested to meet at the Bedford avenue Water Works to-day (Friday), at two o'clock, P. M., to inspect the working of new boilers, and also the starting of new pump at the Lower Water Works. The Pittsburgh Water Commission are also invited.

JAMES M. ATKINSON,
Superintendent of Water Works.

A Concert of Sacred and other Music, To be given this evening at the new Lutheran Church at the corner of Stockton avenue and Arch street, Allegheny City, is likely to prove one of the finest musical treats we have had for many a day. Not only the whole strength of the church choir, which includes some of our very best vocalists, will be there, but several male and female voices selected from other choirs for their pre-eminent vocalizing; also, a number of favorite amateur singers. The vocal portions of the concert will be rendered by the Misses Annie Houston and Annie Reilly, and will be under the direction of Mr. E. E. Rhinehart. And then the Messrs. Knauff & Son, builders of the elegant new organ, now to be put on duty for the first time, are also accomplished practical organists, and will this evening demonstrate the rare power as well as the delicate sweetness of the instrument, the work of their own genius and skill. The lovers of Psalm and hymn and song, and of the deep, rich and graduated thunder, or the gentle zephyr tones of the grand organ, should not fail to be present this evening, as well to enjoy the feast of music as to see and admire the new church, which is a model of elegant architecture and of chaste and appropriate adornment.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

A railroad accident occurred yesterday morning on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Gallitzin, which resulted in the death of two employees of the road. It appears that about eight o'clock a freight train coming west, ran into a ballast train which was standing stationary on the track near Silly's station. The engineer and fireman of the freight train named respectively Henry Hudson and C. L. Douglass, were almost instantly killed. Both trains were badly wrecked. Whether the accident was caused by negligence or carelessness has not been ascertained. Both the deceased men were residents of Altoona. The bodies will probably be brought to this city.

Coroner's Inquests.

Coroner West yesterday held two inquests. The first was upon the body of an infant daughter of Christine Sinkerbiel, found floating in the Allegheny river near Millvale borough, on Wednesday night. Dr. Allen attended Mrs. Sinkerbeil at the time of her confinment and testified that the woman was delivered of twins, who were still born. He told the husband to bury them properly; but instead of doing so he tied a string about their necks and tying a stone to the other end he threw them into the river. His excuse for his conduct was that he was too poor to bury them decently. Verdict, still born.

Another inquest was held upon the body of James Fioler, who was found dead in Hampton township yesterday afternoon. After investigating the case it was ascertained that the deceased had taken a draught of solution of corrosive sublimate which had caused his death. A verdict to this effect was rendered.

Trouble at a Pic-nic.

A German Catholic society held a pic-nic on last Tuesday at the Iron City Park, and like many other picnics, attracted a good many rowdies. During the day a fight took place among some roughs, and officers Sellers and Gruder attempted to quiet the disturbance. They succeeded in arresting one man whom they landed safe in the Seventeenth ward Station House, and were escorting another disorderly in the same direction, when the crowd began to press around them rather close, and attempted to rescue their prisoner. Officer Sellers struck two of them with his cane which so enraged the mob that they began throwing stones, brickbats and other light missiles at the officers, who were finally obliged to release their prisoner and look out for their lives. The officers succeeded in making their escape after receiving a few bruises from stones. Sellers was cut severely about the head. Gruder was struck on the head by a brick, which flattened the button on his cap but injured him but slightly. Officer Sellers left his hat and cane on the grounds.

An Unfortunate Boy.

Yesterday afternoon a young lad named Maloney was arrested by the depot police on a telegram sent from the authorities at Dennison, Ohio. Maloney is a hostler, employed by the proprietor of a racing stable in Lexington, Kentucky. Several of his employers' horses are entered for the Long Branch races and they had been shipped by the Pan Handle road, the boy accompanying them. In the car in which the animals were receiving transportation were a large number of pieces of rock coal and Maloney undertook when near Dennison, the train being under full headway, to throw these coals out. While so doing some of the lumps struck two men standing by the side of the track, injuring one very severely. A telegram was sent to this city to arrest him. On the arrival of the train he was taken into custody and placed in the lock-up. Late last night officers arrived and at an early hour this morning the boy was taken to the scene of the occurrence. The officials represent that one of the men has sustained serious injuries. Maloney is an intelligent lad and disclaims any intention of doing harm to the man. His story is plain and straightforward.

Hymenial.

Yesterday afternoon a small company of friends gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wall, 373 Rebecca street, Allegheny, to witness the marriage of their second daughter, Miss Sadie, to Mr. Robert E. Heron. The felicitous ceremony, which of twain makes one, in this instance was performed by the Rev. Dr. I. N. Baird in accordance with the simple and beautiful ritual of the M. E. Church, after which the young couple spent an hour or two with their friends, before starting upon their eastward wedding tour. The occasion was marked by all those pleasant accessories of festivity, genial social intercourse, and general happiness, which like the fragrance to the flower, seem to be necessary accompaniments of such interesting episodes, and serve to make the "wedding day" the brightest of the bright "red letter days" in memory's calendar.

Those who know our young friends—and to know is to highly esteem—will heartily join in all the good wishes uttered for them; were ours, the fairy power, certainly it would enacted that the years of the future should come to them full—freighted with joys and prosperity, and bearing but the smallest possible proportion of life's sorrows.

Death of Mrs. Mechling.

We clip from the Butler Citizen the following notice of the death of a venerable and estimable lady of that place:

Mrs. Jane Sanderson Mechling, wife of the Hon. Jacob Mechling, of this place, departed this life on Tuesday, the 14th inst., aged 77 years. Mrs. Mechling had been ill for the past four years, and for one year past her body was partly paralyzed and her reason somewhat dethroned. During all her illness she bore her sufferings with Christian patience. She was a pious and kind-hearted woman, hospitable and charitable to all, as many of our citizens know. She was born in Cumberland county, this State, and removed with her father when young to Middlesex township, where she spent her youthful days, and was married to Jacob Mechling in the year 1823, from which time she has resided, with her husband, in Butler and Armstrong counties. She was sister to the Hon. James Thompson, now President Judge of the Supreme Court of this State; of John and William Thompson of Middlesex township, and Robert Thompson of Clinton township, this county, and of Mrs. Salina Gilliland, wife of John Gilliland, deceased, and of Martha Thompson, all of whom survive her. She leaves children, surviving her: Mrs. Susan D. Blakeley, wife of Archibald Blakeley, Esq., of Allegheny City; Wm. Thompson Mechling, now living in British Honduras; J. Jefferson Mechling, residing in California; and Joseph B. Mechling, Esq., of this place. Much respected in her life she is mourned by many friends and relatives, to whom she was endeared by many acts of kindness.

FRANK ABT.

The Celebrated Composer to Visit Pittsburgh—Preparations for His Reception.

The Frohsinn German Singing Society are making arrangements for the reception of Frank Abt, who it is believed will visit this city in the latter part of June or early days of July. It is expected he will remain in our midst for three or four days. The arrangements will probably consist of a banquet, in which all the musical societies of the city may join, although the proceedings are under the direction of the Frohsinn society. During his stay Abt will be shown around so as to give him an opportunity of understanding the industrial importance of the Iron City. His reception will not be inferior to any that he receives in the eastern cities.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

Organization of an Auxiliary Society in the Second Ward, Allegheny.

A temperance meeting, as previously announced, was held last evening in the Fourth U. P. Church, Allegheny; a goodly number of the most prominent gentlemen of the ward being present, and manifested a great interest in the cause by the active part that they took in the organization.

The following gentlemen connected with the Central Alliance being present to effect an organization: Messrs. T. H. Rabe, J. P. Henderson, R. C. Totten and D. R. Ingram.

Opening prayer by Mr. R. C. Totten. Opening address by Rev. Wm. Fulton, and also addresses by the following gentlemen: Mr. Johnson and Mr. J. Thresher, of London, England.

The Constitution and Pledge received quite a number of signatures, of which the following were elected Directors:

Rev. Jos. King, Rev. Wm. Fulton, Rev. C. W. Smith, Rev. Daniel Schindler, and Messrs. J. P. Henderson, L. H. Eaton, Isaac Taylor, H. Crumb, and R. L. Thompson.

The ladies did not take the interest in this meeting that they generally do on similar occasions, and we hope to hear more from their work in this noble cause in the future.

An Auxiliary Society will be organized in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, on the 27th, and one in the Seventh ward, Pittsburgh, on Tuesday the 28th, at the Fifth U. P. church.

Closing prayer by Rev. Wm. Fulton, and the meeting adjourned.

MR. JAMES STEVENSON, agent of the National Insurance Company met with a severe accident on Wednesday. While attending a pigeon shooting, he was accidently shot in the face, one of the shot striking him close to the eye, inflicting a painful though not dangerous wound. The accident was occasioned by the careless handling of fire-arms.

THE sports of the South Side were considerably disappointed yesterday not seeing a long expected prize fight. The principals had been training for about three months, and the fight was to take place early yesterday morning; but one of the parties had suddenly left to avoid arrest for assaulting a citizen, and so the "mill" was postponed.

THE County Temperance Alliance have appointed the following places in which meetings will be held for the purpose of organizing Auxiliary Societies: First Methodist church, Union avenue, near Ohio street, Allegheny, on Monday evening next. Fifth U. P. church, corner of Washington and Webster streets, this city, on Tuesday night.

FOR a week or more past, a gang of young scamps have been plundering the grocery stores of Fifth extension, stealing everything palatable which they could place their hands upon unseen. Yesterday evening, however, one of the rascals was caught in the act of stealing some fruit from the store of Wincher Bros. He was taken into custody and safely lodged in the lock-up.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON a young man named Fleming hired a valuable horse and wagon for the purpose of taking a drive. He inaugurated his trip by certain heavy potations and when on Penn street near Twenty-seventh street had become so intoxicated that he drove into a heavy freight wagon. He was thrown out and seriously injured. The wagon was demolished. The police removed Fleming to the Twelfth Ward Station House.

THE Steubenville Herald of yesterday says: A gentleman from Pittsburgh to-day informs us that the Great Western band, the band of the Duquesne Grays, was offered $500 to be in attendance at Baltimore during the 30th. This proposition they positively refused, on the grounds that they were to visit Steubenville on that day. This honor by Pittsburgh to a sister city should arouse our citizens to renewed liberality in donating money to defray the expenses.

MR. JOSEPHS, the husband of the woman who died suddenly a few days ago in Soho, claims that he had been very much persecuted by his wife and her friends on account of their religious differences. He is a Universalist, and she and her minister tried many unpleasant arguments to convert him to her faith, that of the Presbyterian. This difference of opinion and the accompanying unpleasantness, it seems, was the only grounds for the rumors that Josephs had poisoned his wife.

BY AN ACT of the last Legislature the corporate name of the House of Refuge has been changed, and it is hereafter to be named the "Pennsylvania Reform School," a much more appropriate designation, as the institution is not designed or used as a place of punishment, nor yet as a mere house of confinement or detention, but all the efforts of the management and officers are directed to the education and reformation of the youths committed to their care, and a rich annual harvest of benefits and blessings is gathered from the zealous efforts of the officers and the judicious means employed.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

An information was made on Wednesday night before Alderman Strain by Mrs. Martha Wilson, charging one Samuel J. Sharp with forgery. It is alleged Sharp gave Mrs. Wilson a promissory note for $250, bearing the name of J. R. Putnam. Mr. Putnam never signed the document. The defendant was committed to jail for a hearing.

A waiter at the Robinson House named Thos. Butler yesterday appeared before the Mayor and charged one McRobinson with assault and battery. Warrant issued.

Thirty-two common cases before the Mayor yesterday morning and four at the afternoon hearing.

Pat Morrison for vagrancy was yesterday sent to the workhouse for thirty days by Mayor Blackmore.

A man named Daniel Brown, a confirmed vagrant, well known to the police, was yesterday sent to the workhouse for ninety days. John Jackson, for continued drunkenness was retired for thirty days.

Jacob Haas yesterday made an information before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, against John Hurth, and three of his sons, for assault and battery. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

Before Alderman Baille, Charlotte Dickson made an information against John Walker, charging him with assault and battery. Walker was arrested and held to bail for Court in the sum of $500.

Two suits were entered yesterday before Deputy Mayor Nichols by John Walker against —— Dixon, charging him with assault and battery and also malicious mischief. The deponent alleges that the defendant came into the saloon of the plaintiff and attacked him, knocking him down. He also knocked over the furniture rather promiscuously, breaking several chairs. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Michael Horkinnard has been in the habit of insulting persons passing along the streets of Lawrenceville, and especially officers. Reasonings and warnings alike had no effect upon him, and yesterday he was arrested and brought before Deputy Mayor Nichols, who fined him five dollars and costs.

James White made an information yesterday morning before Alderman Anderson, against two young men charging them with assault and battery. He alleges that they attacked him while he was at work in a boiler yard on Penn street. The case was settled by the employers of the defendants. In the afternoon White again appeared and made another information against the same parties, charging them with aggravated assault and battery. A very severe gash was cut in his head, which he alleged was caused by the defendants, who struck him with a piece of iron. Warrants were again issued for their arrest.

CHAS. HOERR, P. M.

Horace Greeley doubtless expects to carry the country by a large majority. We think such a result very doubtful unless he buys his clothes at the popular establishment of Messrs. Urling, Follansbee & Co., southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street. The crowds who have purchased outfits at this establishment came away pleased with neat fitting and elegant suits, which give satisfaction in every particular.

Novelties

Are being constantly received at the fashionable one price hat and cap emporium of Messrs. Wm. Fleming & Co., No. 139 Wood street.

Annual Session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania—The Reports Presented—Prosperous Condition of the Order.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, I. O. O. F., commenced Tuesday, in Philadelphia, at the armory of the National Guard, Alfred Slack, Grand Master, presiding, and the other officers in their places. The annual reports of the Grand Master, Secretary, Treasurer, &c., were submitted. From the report of the Grand Secretary, it appears that eleven defunct lodges have been revived since the last annual meeting. The condition of the Order at the present time is reported by the Secretary as follows:

Number of initiations during the year	10,144
Number admitted by card	2,285
Number reinstated	785
Number deceased	751
Number withdrawn by card	3,007
Number suspended	4,644
Number expelled	157
Present number of members	85,808
Net increase of members	5,655
Number rejected	1,632
Number of Past Grands	12,825
Number of Lodges in operation	708
Increased number of Lodges since last report	44
Number of Decree Lodges of the Daughters of Rebekah	63
Increased number of Decree Lodges of the Daughters of Rebekah	9

The Grand Treasurer, M. Richards Muckle, reported that the receipts of the Grand Lodge during the year amounted to $29,495,30, including a balance. The payments reached the sum of $24,927,01.

The M. W. Grand Master, in commencing his report, says: "I beg leave to offer my congratulations to the brotherhood through the jurisdiction for the harmony that prevails, and for the continued prosperity that has marked the progress of the Order during the past year, as well as the previous ones, in its comparatively brief but wonderful history. Our Order has become the leading institution in Pennsylvania, and for a long time it has been far in advance of its sister jurisdictions. This is due, in a large measure, to the number of earnest co-workers in this great moral vineyard, and to their unselfish, self-sacrificing efforts for the establishment and diffusion of the benign principles inculcated in our ritual."

Previous to the close of the morning session $1,000 was appropriated to the sufferers by the fire in Somerset.

A large number of new members were admitted to the Grand Lodge. Reports of Committees were submitted to be acted upon during the session. The officers elect were introduced, and installed into their several positions: Grand Master—William Stedman, of Philadelphia; Deputy Grand Master—Jacob M. Campbell, of Johnstown; Grand Warden—Isaac A. Sheppard, of Philadelphia; Grand Secretary—James B. Nicholson, of Philadelphia, and Grand Treasurer—M. Richards Muckle, of Philadelphia. The Grand Master made his appointments for the year, which were confirmed. The session, which is well attended, will continue for several days.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—JUDGE M'KENNAN.

In the case of Leonard H. Tallman, tried on an indictment for passing counterfeit money, the jury found a verdict of not guilty.

The next case taken up was that of Joseph L. Williams, of Ohio vs. S. K. Kane & Co. This was an action to recover $1,197 35, with interest from February 1st, 1869, for oil sold to defendants. On trial.

DISTRICT COURT—JUDGE KIRKPATRICK.

The case of Julius K. Baum vs. the Girard Fire Insurance Company, previously reported, was withdrawn yesterday morning for settlement by the parties.

A motion for a new trial in the case of Dierbeck's heir vs. Coleman, Rahm & Co., was made by plaintiffs' counsel.

The next case taken up was that of Samuel Duff vs. Samuel Wilson. This was an action to recover from bail for rent alleged to be due. The defense set up was that the person for whom Wilson became bail was evicted from a portion of the premises by the fore-closure of a mortgage and that consequently the defendant is not responsible for the rent. On trial.

Trial List for To-day.

191. Sarvier, for use, vs. Scheffle.
193. Sinclair vs. Leavenworth.
194. Leavenworth vs. Sinclair.
195. O'Brien vs. same.
196. Same vs. same.
197. Leavenworth vs. same.
50. Appel vs Capman.
21. E. Horbach vs. C. W. Bennett's widow.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGES STERRETT AND STOWE.

In the case of McCutchen vs. Stevenson reported on trial yesterday before Judge Sterrett, the jury found for plaintiff for $1,223 70.

In the case of National Bank of Commerce vs. N. M. and H. Clancy & Co., the jury found for plaintiff $1,268 44.

The first case taken up before Judge Sterrett was that of Michael O'Hara et al vs. Joseph Dilworth et al. This was an action in ejectment for seventeen acres of land. On trial.

The first case taken up before Judge Stowe was that of Wm. Fitzsimmons et al vs. William Fawcett. This was a sci. fa. on a mechanic's lien. Verdict for plaintiff for $388 32.

The next case taken up was that of W. R. Thorn, M. D., vs. the Mayor, Aldermen and citizens of Allegheny. This was an action to recover for professional services given to prisoners in the Allegheny lock-up. On trial.

Trial List for To-day.

204. Lenkard vs Rafferty.
21. Freyvogle et al vs. McGahan.
25. Ward vs. Somerville.

To Those Who Desire a Good and Secure Investment, or a Cheap, Desirable and Healthy Residence.

In these days of fictitious statements, and bogus enterprises set to catch the man who possesses the weakness of believing all men to be honest, it is not very easy to be enabled with clear judgment and good faith either to embark ourselves or advise any of our friends to enter into strange partnerships, or launch out into many of the business enterprises constantly offered through the press.

There are, however, many opportunities constantly occurring whereby the capitalist may be rewarded, and at the same time many of the middle class people so invest their hard won savings that in a few years the outlay shall have increased its value two-fold, and in the meantime been a source of enjoyment to them.

We refer to the purchase of real estate in a well selected locality. This appears to us to be the wisest and best mode of investment offering in our market.

Of course the great matter to be settled satisfactorily is "the locality," and this will always be best and most profitably arrived at, in a young rising town, where good business location, easy mode of travel, centrality of position, and the energy and wealth of its employers are combined. Where these attendants, and the greater advantage of cheap land are to be found, there is the spot to locate.

Such a position it seems to us is to be found in Wheatland, a young rising town on the Pittsburgh & Erie Railroad nearly equi-distant distant between this city and Erie.

This town began to show what life and energy could do, only some fifteen months ago, when the large rolling and rail mill of Messrs. James Wood, Sons & Co., first commenced operation. It had then only a few houses, principally occupied by the men working in the four blast furnaces, owned by the same company; now there is a population of over three thousand. The company employ in the mill and furnaces fully eight hundred men, and have erected over two hundred houses, whilst fully another hundred have been erected by private parties. Building is going on all around, and in a very short time this town which so lately was altogether unknown, is destined to be the most important point between this and Erie. The amount of iron and rails made is an average of one hundred and fifty tons per day. The town is well supplied with stores, the one owned by Messrs. J. W. S. & Co., being second to none out of any of the great cities; there are also two English places of worship, one a M. E. Church, the other a Catholic Church, besides a Welsh one of a Union tendency. These are very handsome buildings and well supplied with stated and regular pastors. There is also a capital school where teachers of high standing are engaged.

In passing up the line of rail, on the right there rises a very graceful knoll of ground, well supplied with fruit and shade trees. On this elevation there are many very handsome residences already erected, and others in prospect.

The view from this side of the town is very picturesque; the air peculiarly bracing, and added to this is the luxury of most excellent springs of water.

To us it appears a good opportunity for any one desiring to invest either for building purposes for the general good, or for some of our well-to-do merchants to erect for their families a country seat, easy of access, where the little folks could anjoy the pure, fresh air, and indulge in rambles in the adjacent woods to their hearts content. That the town is destined to grow and consequently land increase very much in value, none who have visited it doubt. The marvelous growth of the past year predicts for it greater things for the future.

Let those of our readers who are desirous of entering into some safe and profitable investment run down to Wheatland, and we doubt not that they will become enquirers, and from that, buyers of lots in this young but growing town. This place is so promising, and its growth so rapid, that I may write you further of its progress.

OBSERVER.

Queen of the Road.

Among the great variety of plain and stylish carriages to be always seen at the extensive Bazaar of C. West & Co., Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street, will be found an improved patent Buck Wagon, quite peculiar in construction, very light, very strong and very cheap; the spring is unusually strong, and yet so flexible and its motions so easy and gentle, that we feel sure they will grow rapidly into popular favor and prove to be, as they are called, the "Queen of the Road." Orders for them are coming in rapidly.

F

Notice.—A meeting of the citizens of this city, who are opposed to the closing of Grant street and Washington street by the Pennsylvania Railroad, will be held at the Grant Street School House, on Friday evening, the 24th inst., at 7½ o'clock. All parties opposed to the project are invited to attend.

LIFE IN THE KITCHEN.

Fashionable Actions of Hired Help—A Porter and Chambermaid Ape Their Superiors and Elope—Hotel Arrangements Disarranged.

The following incident furnished by the Jamestown Journal gives an account of a well planned elopement by two of the lower ten thousand: Confusion reigned at one of our popular hotels this morning, and there was a lack of substantials at the breakfast table, and the guests and boarders had to make their own beds and take care of their own rooms, and the proprietor had to build the fires and groom his prancing steeds. There had been a "cuttings up" during the space that intervened between the two days, and there were "surface indicatons" that something was "rotten in Denmark." In other words, there was scarcity of help, and it was only after a careful examination of the "indications" that the truth of the matter came to light.

Employed at the hotel in question was a man named John, surnamed Carmichael. He filled the lucrative position of porter, superintendent of the horse department, errand boy, and several other important positions about an hotel, besides splitting wood, building fires, assisting the cook and chambermaid in their arduous duties, and also performed the duty of night clerk and weighed down his person by carrying the key to the till. There were also among the employes, as we intimated above, a cook and a chambermaid. Now John longed for a situation about which the labor was not so complicated, and the chambermaid and cook yearned likewise and ditto. Here were three souls with a single thought, and there being no kindred ties to hook them to one string they did just what thousands have done before. The cause of humanity and fellow feeling stirred them to action, and they resolved to take advantage of the emancipation act. And they did. They eloped, and here is where the trouble commenced.

John, surnamed Carmichael, admired the many qualities of the chambermaid, and she admiring John, they arranged to leave on the midnight train West, for greener pastures. They wanted a witness to subscribe the document, and who could be more handy than the cook about the house? She was let into the secret and consented to be one of the impromptu party. The business of the day over, the lovers and the cook packed up their traps and John carried them to the train, and when it came up put them on board. He also put the impromptu party on board, and a guest of the house being at the train, John handed him his lantern, bid him good-bye, and jumped on the train as it moved off. They were gone! and when the proprietor of the hotel heard of it he looked about him to see what was missing. He found the till just where it was when he went to bed; but then John's pockets were not large enough to carry the till. Several other things were found in their accustomed places, and perhaps several other things were found when the rooms were swept. The exact location of the parties has not been ascertained yet.

"How happy the landlord would be
If John and the girls were here."

Dyspepsia—Indigestion.

The subject of Indigestion has attracted much attention, because it has ever been a difficult and troublesome disease to treat.

It is characterized by a great variety of symptoms, the most prominent of which are, pain after eating, belching, heartburn, waterbrash, fullness of stomach, with tenderness, load or weight in that region, debility, loss of flesh, despondency, headache, bad or capricious appetite, palpitation, cough, nervousness, restlessness, &c., &c.

When the disorder is of long continuance other organs of the body soon become affected, and the lungs, liver, brain, or kidneys frequently suffer.

In fact, Dyspepsia is the forerunner of a great number of Chronic diseases, such as Consumption, Scrofula, Hemorrhoids, Uterine difficulties, colic pains, paralysis, neuralgia, female derangements, nervous spells, weakness, &c., &c.,—and is in its turn the consequence of many of them, and may be complicated with almost every and any disease.

From this it is plain that the treatment of Dyspepsia should be varied according to the extent of the disease and the nature of the complications.

One symptom is more prominent and urgent in one case than another, according to the disease with which it is complicated. And hence remedies seldom have the same effect in any two cases, and all plans of treatment will most generally fail, unless the precise nature and cure of the disease is well and fully understood.

To determine these there is no better criterion than the urinary secretions.

Indeed, we are surprised that so little attention has hitherto been paid to that secretion in Dyspepsia, when we know that there is no more certain sign offered.

By this we are enabled to determine whether it be Dyspepsia from liver complaint, kidney affections, nervous disorders, or, in case of females, from uterine affections, derangements or irregularities, or whether these affections proceed from the Dyspepsia:—And to treat the case in accordance with the true conditions, the fixed principles of a fixed science.

There is no guess-work about it. We have cured hundreds and thousands of cases of Dyspepsia by a single course of medicine; others require more, however, according to the disease with which it is complicated.

For the benefit of those living at a distance, laboring under Chronic Affections, and unable to attend in person, we would say: by sending a vial of urine for examination, the necessary medicines can be sent them by express.
